Indifference: A world disease

Dear children,

Most of humanity is blind, a product of the great indifference that exists among human beings and towards the Kingdoms of Nature.

Indifference comes to the tiniest details of daily life, to the point that indifferent souls do not notice their own mistakes; it exacerbates the war in the world because it keeps it in deep ignorance of the true reality of these times. It is one of the hind paws of the beast; the beast stands firmly on all of human indifferences and thus sharpens its horns in the illusion of the people and the vanity of the proud. The glory felt by the beast is so fake that, despite its own cunning, it does not realize it is deluded inside its own creation.

The beast sustains itself in everything which is indifferent, from the smallest to the biggest of nations.

The apparent confidence that the beast feels helps it overcome the faint strength of the tepid hearts. It is opulent and calls itself blessed because it always feeds from human suffering and the indignation felt by those who are not indifferent.

The beast is a great strategist, it recreates indifference in human minds and makes the faint people feel that by being indifferent they will look stronger. This indifference justifies the mistakes of the souls and in this way they can never leave the abyss in which they have placed themselves.

The beast appears powerful in the fake arts it imparts to humanity. But attention in everything, even in the smallest things, will prevent you from being indifferent and so you will know how to protect the spiritual heritage entrusted to you.

Indifference leads to irreverence, and in this state there is no trust in God. The beast will be defeated when most people stop being indifferent to their fellow human and to all life manifested around them.

Indifference is like gluttony, it will not stop growing inside the consciousness. Those who act with intelligence will no longer be so indifferent. But the beast takes advantage of the limitations of the soldiers. The determined actions of faith and consciousness in these times would draw many out of the abyss of indifference.

The angels of Heaven battle with swords of fire to dissipate the indifference that constantly makes the minds of people still so that they cannot act and everything remains static.

The path to the sacred also protects consciousnesses, and the beast does not know that the sacred and reverent ascends the good spirits to other planes and separates them from this world disease.

The mission of the soldiers of Christ is to care for the celestial treasures so that they will have more spiritual consciousness to protect the whole legacy that has been delivered.

Reverence is the protecting balm of the self-summoned; where there is reverence there is no indifference. Reverence could be the path that souls would go through in order to replace planetary indifference and then change the human codes that lead to the deterioration of everything.

To get out of indifference, you must first listen with humility to the indications to leave that place.

Observe how many consciousnesses are blinded by indifference and cannot see the true need of humanity, which is to leave this indifference as soon as possible, to walk towards the new humanity.

Service will make you less indifferent and more awake to change, a little bit more every day.

Indifference is sovereign in this world and it must be exorcised.

I thank you for responding to My call!

Who elevates you to the Spirit of Reverence,

Your Mother Mary, Rose of Peace and Mother of the refugees
