MESSAGE FOR THE APPARITION IN THE MARIAN CENTER OF AURORA, TRANSMITTED BY THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY TO FRIAR ELÍAS

Dear children:

As the recorded history says, in the depths of My Heart, after the birth of Jesus, the little Child King started to irradiate the first codes of redemption and peace to the world, especially to those that on the path have seen me with the Child Jesus in My arms.

This was a time of My great learning as a mother. There God was revealing to me the infinite mysteries of His Love for us all. My Immaculate Virginity was fulfilled by the Holy Spirit that allowed to gestate in My womb the little Child Jesus. The Child King was the true sign of conversion and redemption for many children of Israel including those who were participants in the spiritual dialogues that Jesus while a child shared with so much love for all.

After some years of life the little Child King was growing and My maternal hands helped him to take the first steps towards God. But Jesus was and is God in life, a precious expression of visible love for all humanity. Jesus, the little Child King showed the true virtues of sanctity and humility that God had given to him. Each soul that had an encounter with My Child Jesus healed its pain and recuperated its hope through trust in the God of Love.

When Jesus was eleven years old he was brought for the first time to the Temple to be present at the instruction of the Doctors. It was at this time that My Maternal Heart and the Heart of Joseph confirmed definitively the total trust in God because in this event Jesus was lost among the multitude and we searched for him during the following three days. The faith and the guidance of an angel from the Lord brought us to find Him in the temple among the Doctors. Jesus has passed three days in a row preaching, and even though he was only eleven years old, the Spirit of God spoke with love through His little and Sacred Heart.

When Joseph and I found Him in the temple we saw that Our Highest Lord was working silently through the means of the little Jesus. When the preaching of Jesus was ended in the temple, we brought Him again to Nazareth. When we arrived at the house in Nazareth we asked Him with much tranquility where he had been during these three days in a row. Jesus answered us:

"... Mother. Where could My being be if not in the House of My Father? My Heart was called by the Lord to pour His love over the thinking hearts of the Doctors; I had to awaken love in them, saying that God is encountered in each action of donation, of love, of sharing and of serving others, that God is encountered more there than among the scriptures. God told me, My Protector Angel also told me, and it was the Angel of the Lord that brought My little Spirit to the Temple so that for the first time I might see how God heals, through His words of Love to those that have attention for His message.

After such blessed instruction given by the little Jesus I saw with the Most Chaste Joseph that God had started to accomplish His Will in the life of the little Jesus. In the following years Jesus was formed by the Most Chaste Joseph in the labor of carpentry and tailoring so that as a child he could have the same knowledge as so many other children in Israel. Each father must teach to his first son a labor so that it may develop it as a service for the community. The Most Chaste Joseph always was so obedient to the requests of God, especially to the requests that were given by the angels of light of the Lord.

Jesus practiced the work of a carpenter until past twenty years old, when again he was brought to share the sacred word with all the people of Israel. Nazareth was our home for a long time, there between My Son and My Heart of a Mother we prepared for the awaited moment for the surrender of Jesus.

Jesus, since he was a child, desired to make little sacrifices, and all of them were silently offered to God for the reparation of His Heart. One day in the house of Nazareth I left prepared the daily food for the little Jesus. The Most Chaste Joseph, even with his tasks of carpentry had the mission to feed Jesus at noontime. I was in another part of the house because many women who were in need of counsel and love visited me, asking for my maternal counsel. I was praying for the plans of God and this group of women accompanied me daily in a meeting of prayer in which we prayed in Aramaic.

It happened that the Most Chaste Joseph during this day worked without stopping because from his labor of charity depended what was coming and the providence that the Lord would give to us. This day Jesus fasted for the first time, when he was only four years old. The little Child always showed to us that He was part of God and that God was part of Him.

Sometimes the little Jesus liked to climb up a ladder that reached to the highest part of the house. He usually said to us that there above He was going to an encounter with the Great Lord. I usually ran quickly to catch him, leaving my tasks of the house, in order to reach Him and put Him in My arms.

The Child King learned Aramaic quickly and always waited during the night for My arms to shelter Him, holding Him to sing in a soft whispering vice the canticles of praise to God. On many nights of vigil and prayer Jesus was at My side, in vigil for the Plan of God, even when He was very little.

The birth of Jesus brought to the world the purity to return to the Love of God, a purity that humanity was loosing during the centuries. For this today, My dear children, I leave to you one more part of My maternal history with Jesus, so that in this time you may never more forget the Mother that God gave to you. And so that the mothers do not forget the children that God gave to them. I know that so many mothers suffer for their children and that many children suffer for their mothers and fathers.

Now is the great moment of reconciliation and forgiveness among all of this great family of humanity. Place in My arms your beings and trust My children that I will be here among you because I love you and because the Grace of God contemplates you. Be good children of God, be good mothers and fathers consecrated to God.

Everything renews itself by means of Jesus.

I thank you for sharing this Christmas with My Maternal Heart.

Mary, Mother of the Divine Conception of the Trinity.
