

Friday, January 6, 2017

WEEKLY MESSAGE OF SAINT JOSEPH, TRANSMITTED IN THE CITY OF MIAMI, FLORIDA, UNITED STATES, TO THE VISIONARY SISTER LUCÍA DE JESÚS

Children, so that this may be a cycle of Graces, at least within humankind, you must now be consistent with all that you have already received.

This new cycle will represent the ripening of the fruits that have been born in all who are servants and consecrated to Christ.

All the seeds of the New Life have already been deposited in the essence of those who said "yes". Now, each one will be responsible for making them grow, to then eat the fruits of its development.

Many will see themselves before an arid and dry inner soil, and it will be up to them to seek a more profound and true source within themselves. Those who live in spiritual dryness are like this because they must dig deeply into their own consciousness, break rocks and limits, find and purify abysses, drink of the mud they may find, so that then they may be before a source of pure water.

All children of God have this purity within themselves. In some of them it is more hidden, and in others, less. But the fact that it is more hidden in some does not mean they are worse, but that they have enough strength to breakthrough all that is hiding within themselves.

The most imperfect companions of Christ are also the strongest, however, their strength has been used to separate them from that which created them. With the same strength which they have separated themselves from that something within, which leads them to Their Creator, they must now overcome themselves and return.

Those who are humble by nature do not have great merits in their humility, they must only persevere in it. But those who overcome themselves, with the tough battle and the constant effort, those who let themselves be humiliated and broken by the Power of God, and who repent for having distanced from the Creator, they will, indeed, children, pull others along with their example and with the merits of their conversion, they will open the doors of the Universe for God.

For those who discover that the true greatness is in Christ and not in themselves, that imperfection is the best path to reach Him, they will let the Lord defeat them and transform their miseries with the Source of Divine Mercy, they will never depart from Him, because, knowing the taste of the sludge and the mud of impure waters, they will not want anything else, but only the Water of the Divine Source.

For this reason, children, no longer cry for your miseries and imperfections, but recognize, each day, the possibility of being a victory of Christ, and find the meaning of life in the permanent battle for surrendering your own being at His Feet.

Break the tough and arid covers of your inner world and find within yourselves a Principle of purity. Strengthen yourselves and make the seeds of virtues grow. Take care of the Graces that you have received so that they may be fruitful, because in this cycle, many will depend on the multiplication of the Graces that a few have received for having opened their hearts.

For this reason, it is not enough to receive Graces: you must make them grow, and expand the Reign of God, beginning by becoming His servants entirely.

The one who guides you with His own example, the tireless Servant of the Father,

The Most Chaste Saint Joseph