

Thursday, January 5, 2012

DAILY MESSAGE OF MARY, MOTHER OF THE DIVINE CONCEPTION OF THE TRINITY, TRANSMITTED TO THE VISIONARY FRIAR ELÍAS DEL SAGRADO CORAZÓN

With the hearts that decay, with all of them, I am. The strength of prayer will give you courage for the transformation of each soul. Prayer will sow patience before the changes of life and love will unite what may be separated in the hearts. To be able to convert itself, each heart must recognize its faults. By recognizing them, you will be able, by means of prayer, to dissolve and elevate, little by little, what weighs on the hearts.

I want to help you, for this reason I come from Heaven so that you may find comfort in My Heart. My immaculate spirit will overflow with joy when My children remember God. If life were prayer, life would be transformed. Love cultivates patience before the tests, and patience will bring you to the redemption of the past.

Dear children, today I call you for you to love what you still have not overcome. In My Heart you will find refuge.

Who adores you,

Mary, Mother of the Divine Conception of the Trinity