SPECIAL MESSAGE OF CHRIST JESUS, TRANSMITTED FOR THE 55th MARATAHON OF THE DIVINE MERCY, IN THE CITY OF CAMPINAS, SAO PAULO, BRAZIL, TO THE VISIONARY FRIAR ELÍAS DEL SAGRADO CORAZÓN

First Message

My Voice is heard again in the deserts of this world and My Word echoes in the hearts that recognize the Glorified Face of the Lord.

I Am the last Prophet of these times.

Just as I Am the Beginning, I Am also the End, and everything will pass through Me until the last living cell of this planet.

Because I come from an infinite mystery, from an infinite Creation, from an immaterial Source that the world cannot touch, because it only vibrates in spirit.

I come from this Great Spirit, whence comes My Voice, which is the Word of Life, which brings to the world renewal and peace; which builds in souls a reconnection with God and with His Divine Kingdom.

In this immaterial Source I was conceived in order to come to this Creation, in order to show Myself to you and to be among you, sharing the Path of God, which is the only way that will unite all religions.

Today I Am here as the Lord of Religions, to synthesize the best, the most evolutionary, the good from each one of them.

Today I come to weave with My own Hands, through religions, the last necklace of Light which will unite each one of them in a single path where someday you will be, to realize, at last, that the only religion is the Love of God, the Love of the Source, which brings infinite wisdom, understanding and comprehension.

Just as I was in the past, so long ago, announcing the Word of Life and the Gospel in deserts, today the last Prophet of God returns to deserts to proclaim His Return, which will unite all that is separated in the consciousness of the humankind of this world.

Just as the religions will unite, also will the cultures, which will proclaim the Kingdom of God and worship Its Magnificence, Its Splendor and Infinity.

This moment is drawing near, when all will become clear, when all will be revealed and there will no longer be differences, because the end of a time is approaching, and the most difficult transition is near. And those who do not seek the Religion of Love, which comes from God, will perish.

For this reason, before all happens, love without borders and without resistances.

Allow the Ray of My Heart, the Ray of Love-Wisdom, to permeate you and transform you into the model I so much await.

May religions open, spiritually and in essence, to receive the Lord of the Universe; to receive the One Who once proclaimed the Gospel in the Temples of Jerusalem and Who will now proclaim His Redeeming Word in all Temples of the Earth and in all religions of the world.

And thus, humanity will understand that the spirituality of religions was not thoroughly told and that missing to all was the link of Love, to unite with the great chain of Love-Wisdom.

I was born in the Middle-East more than two thousand years ago to unite the Far East and the West, so that all religions to be born and those which were already born, could meet at the end of the path, the only Path of God which is the path of Love, the one that unifies the essences, the Love that brings the truth and understanding above all things.

I Am not only the Lord of the East, but also the Lord of the West, the Lord of Religions; because the religions of the world must be healed, be healed of their deepest wounds in order to be able to reconcile with God and thus enter in communion with Infinity.

The Father is only One.

But He is present in Three Persons: The Creator, the Firstborn Son and the Holy Spirit.

Three branches of Light that bring this Universe to the elevation of consciousness and unity with the inner universe of each being.

I come with this message because it is a message of preparation for what will come next, when the Lord of Religions visits the Far East and unites this part of humanity, as He unites this part of the planet, this place, with the Source.

May everyone be able to drink from this sacred knowledge. May everyone be able to receive these sacred impulses that are part of the revelation of the Book of God, in which is written the last part of the history of this humanity, which transits to a new time and a new dawn; which will be born to a new consciousness, leaving behind the consciousness of the past, indifference and error.

Accompany the Lord of Religions in His Predication around the world, being ambassadors of peace and good workers of God in order that you never lack the Graces, which the Lord makes sprout from His Infinite Source, in a tireless and inexhaustible way.

Today My Words are mysterious. Today My message is symbolic because all is still to be revealed and it only corresponds to you to understand a part; because you must know that you are within My Project, which you must protect from yourselves in order to not set apart from it, nor to set apart distant from the guidance of My Hand, of the Light of My Heart, of My silent Gaze.

The religions of the world will live their final stage, their definition, and the times that are coming will call you in order that all be united in love and unity; otherwise, it will not be possible to persist.

What is written will be fulfilled.

All is part of a new time and of a new experience, you only must have your faith strengthened in order for nothing to surprise you.

Because unimaginable things will happen, and your voices must be united to the Heights through prayer, so that spiritual guidance never lacks to you; because in truth I tell you that the sheep still do not know how to walk amidst the darkness so as not to lose the path of Light.

That is why I Am the End just as I Am the Beginning.

And until what My Father has asked Me is fulfilled, I will not rest, I will not cease to come to the world to prepare it for its awakening and its great moment of redemption.

Meanwhile, follow My steps for those who no longer follow them.

Accompany Your Master, taking My Hand so that I can guide you, even though you may not understand anything and may not accept anything.

Humanity has decided to stray from its final destiny, that is why I come to put you back on the path, so that you may find the only Path of God, which will take you to Love and to the Truth.

May this Marathon be the union between all the Christic essences of religions, which, whether or not they have Me present in their traditions and ceremonies, they must be able to, through My Intercession and their prayers, reach the union to the Source and the Infinite so that everyone can be redeemed someday.

Smile in this Marathon to relieve the suffering of the world.

There are many hearts which are desperate because they can neither listen to the Word of God, nor live it in these difficult times. But the door to My Divine Mercy is still open; the Ocean of My Mercy is still being offered so that souls may be submerged in it and be washed by the healing Light of My Heart.

May the advent of the new be fulfilled and may the majority of the flocks of God, in the different religions of the world, manage to participate in the great moment of the coming of their Redeemer.

And when this moment comes, I will no longer say another word, because the very facts will be the message, the very physical events on the planet will announce My Return.
