

Tuesday, February 13, 2018

I come here for a people that loves Me, that listens to Me, that invokes Me and pleads to Me.

I come here for this land to be able to heal it, so that a New Humanity can re-emerge from it.

I come here for the love of hearts that express themselves to God with simplicity and humility. That is what makes me come here, dear children, that you chose to arrive here within this work of pilgrimage and this purpose that God has given me as part of His sacred designs.

Today I come here, dear children, to place each of you in My Arms; so that you may feel the gentleness of My Love, the fire of My Heart, and the Light of My Spirit that comes to heal souls of the past, to heal the errors, to dissolve the sorrows and all the suffering that you may have experienced at some time.

Today I hear the voice of your prayers with complete enjoyment, in eternal joy, because today you are opening the door to your Heavenly Mother so that She not only may be here among you, but also with the whole country and with all of the Andes, which so need God's help.

I would like that after this day, dear children, your lives enter the path of ministry and of prayer, and that this first impulse that your souls will receive at your consecration be the reason for taking new steps in the concretization of the Plan of God on Earth, so that one day your souls may be the suns of the New Humanity.

Today a new path begins in your lives, dear children. Your paths are straightened so that at some point you may meet the Lord Jesus Christ, for He is the forerunner of all things. He is the Great Messenger of God Who sends His servant and disciple to deliver the Word of Life to you through His fount of Mercy and of Love.

I would like you to know, dear children, that today your steps are illuminated in love and in truth, so that many, many more souls, who in these times despair and live in darkness, can find the light, the light of their hearts.

I come to encourage you, dear children, to be charitable; to live a life of service for your fellow being, so that your nation and your people may receive a great universal atonement, and above all, the restoration of the consciousness of this nation. So that the new divine codes enter into your essences, in your hearts, and in your lives; and everything, everything, may be recreated just by taking your steps on the path of love, of prayer, and of service.

I invite you, dear children, to be a part of the Work of God; not only experiencing communion with Christ every day through the Holy Eucharist, not only through confession, prayer, or fasting, but also through your ardent surrender, in the same way that you surrendered today to My Immaculate Heart.

My wish is that all these spiritual impulses that I bring you today from heaven may remain alive in your lives for a long time, because in truth, dear children, you will need them to carry out the Plan of the Return of Christ to Earth.

Today I come to bring you, dear children, the new Wills of God; that is, the new designs that spring from His Merciful Heart for each one of His children, which today especially, He pours out with so much Love and so much Mercy through My Immaculate Heart, as a doorway to Redemption.

I know that the world and your lives need healing. I deeply know all the needs of My children, and especially those of My children of Peru; but if you fulfill My requests, and obediently follow My steps on the path of love and of service, I assure you, dear children, that not only will your lives transform and your bodies heal, but also, thousands more souls, that in this nation are still waiting to awaken, will receive the same Grace that your hearts receive today, and they will feel motivated, despite the end of times, to say 'yes' to the Plan of God.

You are a sacred people, and I could say, blessed in its origin. I remind you again, dear children, of the importance of recovering the values for the life of this humanity, so that the Sacred Gifts of God may permeate your consciousnesses, and beyond your lives, all your siblings who also have need of the Sacred Spirit of God to find the Path of Light.

Today I also wanted to thank you, dear children, because your people, despite their needs and tests, have welcomed those who emigrate to this country looking for an opportunity and a new hope, and above all, peace, which must also be instated in this people and in this nation. If you truly continue to pray from the heart every day, I will be able to fulfill the promise I have made to God, to awaken new suns here that may illuminate this humanity and these times of tribulation.

If you come together in groups of prayer, it will be more fluid, dear children; the Plan of God will be concretized, not only in this nation but also in the Americas, where a large part of this race also waits for its awakening.

In this time, I have been making a pilgrimage through the Americas to awaken the race to the designs of God, to the Sacred Will that is written in the Heart of the Father and that must become a reality in your hearts.

If you pray with Me during this time, dear children, you will allow Me to return to Peru a second time. I will fulfill My promises when I see your hearts kindled by the fire of prayer and of service, of charity and of goodness, so that in this Sacred Land, the principles of a New Humanity may be regenerated; a New Humanity that will begin within you so that it may finally emerge on this surface.

Today I come as the Sacred Sun of the Universe to light up your essences, so that you may remember your origin and your beginning, so that you remember the beginning of your existence and the first steps of your evolution. That will make you strong. Because prayer will make you strong, to be able to carry out My Requests, and finally be able to consecrate this people and this nation to My Immaculate Heart. Thus, I will be able to count on your hands and arms to carry forward the Work of Redemption in this part of humanity.

Be happy, dear children, because you are rediscovering the path toward God. Your perseverance and your faith have permitted this event and today a new history is rewritten for Peru, which begins to emerge in the inner universe of each being.

And now, My Words are the Breath of Spirit, a Flame that ignites the flame in your hearts so that you may vivify the Plan of God and carry it forward in these critical times, where Peace, fraternity, and the brotherhood between consciousnesses is pressing.

Today, I would like to do a special consecration before all your Sacred Suns; that inner Sun that must always shine, that must have the inner strength to overcome obstacles, tests, and darkness; that must be in the heights of the Universe to shine the Purpose of God through the conversion and redemption of your lives.

Those who will consecrate themselves here today come forward, so that your Heavenly Mother may bless you through the Divine Fire of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit.

Water to bless.

"Lord of the Universe: Bless this element that you have Created as the purest emanation of Your Sacred Heart, so that it may bless the souls with the Breath and with the Fire of Your Spirit, with the true experience of Love in the hearts of the humankind of this planet.

May Your Light descend, as Codes of Light, as radiant stars that cause the Divine Purpose to be vivified in souls. Amen".

While you listen to the hymn of your consecration, may your hearts be lifted up to the heights to be blessed, welcomed, and received into the arms of the Creator Father.

Let your inner suns light up. May the living flame of devotion awaken and that the healing of your spirits be established as a portal for a New Humanity.

May this consecration represent the new time, the new unity, the eternal covenant between your souls and God, in which nothing will be separate.

Dear children, on this sacred night, on this blessed day in which God unites with your hearts and the Divine Son unites with your essences, your Celestial and Universal Mother gives you the aspect that unites all peoples, all the religions, and all the cultures. May your people and your country be protected and blessed today by the Sacred Mantle of the Lady of Guadalupe, so that the Purpose of God for this nation may be fulfilled. Amen.

Today I give you this image, so that as a pilgrim of your people, many more consciousnesses can experience this inner union with God through Our Lady of Guadalupe, Mother of the original peoples and of all the cultures of this land.

May this image visit those who most need it and may it always be present at your moments of prayer, as a new group of prayer.

Today I leave here the testimony of My Light, of My Love, and of My Grace for each one of you. For this purpose, I consecrate Peru to My Immaculate Heart. In the name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit, Amen.

I listen to the voices that rise up to God to establish this Divine Consecration to the Immaculate Heart of Mary.

I thank Peru, its people, and its culture for having responded to My Call.

I love you, and I thank you.