

Saturday, March 23, 2013

DAILY MESSAGE OF CHRIST JESUS, TRANSMITTED TO FRIAR ELÍAS

Guard your essences in My Heart because there, in this Powerful Heart, evil will not find you. Do not fear the onslaughts that My Sheep may receive because God will always protect you under the intercession of His Celestial Messengers.

Walk through the path of challenges and sacrifice, those which are presenting themselves to your lives, and together with Me drink from the chalice that in this times I Am serving to you for love and mercy.

May nobody despair, but vigil. May the soul vigil with Me because it is not a normal time and many must awake from the dream that the modernities of the world have woven, as for example the competitions.

The best keys to win the battles are love and prayer, an unknown path for those consciousnesses who still must redeem themselves. Unity will mark the next path to be travelled, for this it will be important to answer in an immediate way to the needs that may present themselves.

Be attentive to those who will try to pass off as My Presence because the Earth, your world, in its totality is in redemption. Sustain with your hands the flag of the victory of My Light and even though the wind of the enemy tries to make you fall, do not fear, call My Name that I will quickly answer to your need.

The time that was written is being fulfilled, for this go to the encounter with the world in a careful and prayerful way so that My Followers may be as transparent as water and as invisible as silence.

I Am with you because the definition of the flocks is already coming. In love prepare My Path of return so that I may soon enter your houses.

Wait for Me because I will come in the silence of the night.

Under the Love of the Father, be blessed.

Thank you for interiorizing My words in the heart.

Christ Jesus, the Consoler.