

Saturday, February 2 of 2013

WEEKLY MESSAGE, TRANSMITTED BY THE HOLY VIRGIN MARY TO MOTHER SHIMANI

Today I gather you together with Me because I want to caress your souls with My Love.

I am feeling in My Heart the suffering of some from the difficult lessons that they are living in this purification. Do not fear My children because I am here to console you and to support you, to care for you and to free you from all evil.

Keep in your hearts, in a secure place, the faith in God the Creator that is beyond the tests and the sufferings. Do not allow that any experience, no matter how painful it appears, to take you away from the Heart of God and the Heart of My Son. Know dear children that I am with you and I hope that you will place your heart inside of Mine. This is the place of the greatest protection that exists where it will be cared for and protected from all evil.

Today My dears you walk on the pathway of spiritual maturity, that which will allow you to observe with tranquility and without fear the suffering of others that search in My presence for relief for their lives.

Now begins the time in which many will come close to seek for relief, peace and an opportunity to heal their lives. Remember that I announced some years ago when we began this task that here will arrive many of My children searching for consolation that they could not find in any other place?

Do you remember why you are here?

Open your hearts, My children of Aurora, to receive in this House the planetary suffering because I will fill with Grace these hearts as I have filled yours.

Today in this time, a time of great tests for all, I raise My Sword of Light and I cry out to the All Powerful God for Mercy for the erring humanity, I cry out for Grace for those who open their heart and for Clemency and Forgiveness for those that have been the enemy of God until now.

I cry out on this day so that the Love of the Heavens, the Celestial Kingdom, may descend upon all of you and upon this place, My House of Spiritual Cure.

Blessed are those that believe without seeing because they will receive the Forgiveness of God.

I love you and I protect you under My Mantle of Celestial Light.

Thank you, my courageous ones, for having faith in My Voice and for responding to My call for the healing and peace of humanity.

Mary, Queen of Peace, Lady of all of you.