

Thursday, April 18, 2013

DAILY MESSAGE OF CHRIST JESUS, TRANSMITTED TO THE VISIONARY FRIAR ELÍAS

Give Me your tiredness that I will give you the New Life.

Give Me your sorrow that I will rejoice your little heart.

Give Me your sadness that I will radiate to you My Joy.

Give Me all that you are and let yourself be in Me because in this way I will be able to fulfill My favorite Plans through you.

I want the maximum from your life until your being may be able to rest in My Arms and thus renovate itself.

I am here to consecrate you into something that your being does not know. Let Me be all in you and thus I will be able to reveal to you the wonders of My Celestial Kingdom, because no one will come to the Father except through Me.

Whoever lives in Me will not perish but will be consoled by the Divine Love of the angels of Heaven.

Whoever is in Me will get to know the true mysteries of the universe and will see born on the horizon the new humanity blessed by My Eternal Father.

Continue, continue rowing, do not be detained by that which people may say, just shine like a sun of love and of charity because I am returning and I will first seek during the cold of the night for a kind house where I may be able rest and dine in Holy Spirit with you.

The first time you will not recognize Me but the one who has lived all for Me and through Me will be received in Glory in Paradise and thus they will be opening the door for those who in life have it closed.

Few will be able to recognize Me before My Silent Face is shown to the world, and those who will recognize Me will be the ones who have sustained in their hand the torch of the victory of light.

I will not abandon anyone because My Love is so big that you will be able to feel it one more time.

Under the Mercy of the Father, be blessed.

Thank you for living My words with the heart!

Christ Jesus.