DAILY MESSAGE OF CHRIST JESUS, TRANSMITTED TO THE VISIONARY FRIAR ELÍAS

Dears, from three in the afternoon My thirst is little by little quenched in the face of the immensity of souls who do not rest in My Arms of piety and redemption.

For this at three in the afternoon I bring the merciful rays of God to encourage the souls to follow Me in the steps of the apostolate and of the missions for all of those who have turned their faces back to the light of God.

The bitterness and the suffering of the world is liberated during the hour of Mercy but it is still necessary and urgent that those who have reached My Source and who lose themselves in the great inner desert may be able to achieve Piety and Mercy before God the Father.

For this My Heart forms new apostles so that they may ignite again My Christic Flame in the hearts that are empty, alone and abandoned, in the hearts that are without faith and despair day by day.

Today all of those who listen to My Word have the Grace of receiving the Mercy of My Heart. I ask all of My Companions to, during the hour of Mercy, be very awake before My Presence, to strive in your beings to seek Me and feel Me because the day will come in which the flame of prayer will be your only guide towards God.

Today you are with Me as on all of the holy days, but do not lose sight of the inertia that can invade your spirits and make you believe that you are all the time united to My Heart. You will not be so until out of love and sacrifice you raise your voice asking and clamoring for Mercy.

I want to encounter My Disciples attentive to the events of the world. I do not want to see My Friends sleeping for the second time as I saw them in the beloved Garden of Olives.

I ask you for persistence, faith and willingness to face the currents that will come to the aid of humanity, that which each day separates itself from the Supreme Will of God. I ask you to become conscious before the merciful task that each one of you lives with Me as a member of this humanity.

I ask for sacrifice to those who have made life vows to My Redeemer Heart. I ask you for more prayer and love.

Under the Love of the Father, be blessed.

Thank you for receiving in humility My Words with the heart!

Christ Jesus.
