DAILY MESSAGE OF SAINT JOSEPH, TRANSMITTED ON THE EAGLE OF LIGHT BUS, DURING THE TRIP FROM SÃO PAULO TO FLORIANOPOLIS, BRAZIL, TO THE VISIONARY SISTER LUCÍA DE JESÚS

Be like nature that, before a small sigh of love sent by God, shines and restores its spirit. Nature lives from the love she receives from Heaven. Her elements seek, in the fruitful Principle of God, the power to manifest.

The Kingdoms will only continue to exist if they can fulfill their function of also learning to love and to forgive.

Observe animals: how easily they forgive the mistakes of those they love, how joyfully they endure their evils, only by the faithfulness that lives in their hearts to those who care for them.

Human beings share their existence with the Kingdoms of Nature to rise to one another through communion with life in different forms.

In order for peace to be established and for the Kingdom of God to be one with the kingdom of this world, you must discover what each Kingdom and each element brings an experience to enrich the human process of learning, because if you do not learn how to love the Kingdoms of Nature, which constantly give of themselves to human beings and in every way try to assist in your learning experience of love, you will hardly be able to truly love your neighbor as they are.

If you feel that you do not know how to love or that you cannot love, try to take care of the Kingdoms of Nature, especially the Animal Kingdom, which pours out its love upon human beings even when it is so violated by them.

Realize, observing the Kingdoms, that the school of love is in all things. Above all, the Kingdoms of Nature permanently show you how to live the love that transcends the imperfections and even cures them.

I love you and, clamoring to the hearts to enter the path of learning love and forgiveness, I ask you to commune in unity with the Kingdoms of Nature.

Your Father and Companion, The Most Chaste Saint Joseph
