Sunday, November 10 of 2013

DAILY MESSAGE OF CHRIST JESUS, TRANSMITTED TO THE VISIONARY FRIAR ELÍAS

Your essences are like very beautiful flowers in the garden of My Infinite Heart. All of the flowers are born through Me and I Am reborn through the flowers. Within this metaphor there does not exist separation because the essences are always united to the rhythm and to the beating of My Heart.

I want that on this day will shine the essential beauty that God has given to each one of you from the birth of your most little lives. In this way you will be uniting your beings to the Creator Source of God. In Heaven as on Earth exists the Sacred Unity, a promise that you must reach by means of your walk towards My Heart of Love.

Today I find Myself before the different beginnings and stars. Today I see Myself before the magnitude of the essences of My Father. Imagine for a moment that there are as many essences as stars in the cosmos.

Who will guide them?

Wither will they go after this trajectory upon the Earth?

My original Hope is to carry you to Paradise, towards the ocean where Love and Supreme Unity are merged and recreate forms of sublime life for all of the universe. I wish today that you aspire to seek this Immaterial Source that is not from this world, but that belongs to the Universe of My Merciful Heart.

I will guide you and I will make known to you these wise mysteries.

Under the Love of God, be blessed.

Thank you for living in My Heart!

Christ Jesus