Apparition of Christ Jesus during the 52nd Marathon of Divine Mercy on November 5, 2017, in the city of Valparaíso, Chile, to the visionary Friar Elías del Sagrado Corazón

I am finally here in Chile, together with My brothers and sisters, to recover My flocks that remained lost in other times.

I come to unite you with the essence of My Heart so that My Mercy, which comes from the Source of the Father, may be here with you and with your loved ones.

I come to leave you with My Purpose of finding you again in My path, following My footprints, being led by My Heart, guided by My Soul, because I Am your only Master. I Am who I Am, from the beginning until the end of days.

This is why I have called you. I have knocked on the door of your hearts so that you could be here with Me today, sharing this spiritual task that your Master and Lord carries forward in Chile, banishing the false power, banishing the dominion and the control of society, liberating this wounded people from the sequels of the past, from the current sequels of the past.

I come to dissolve with My Light that which is unchangeable, I come to transform with My essence that which nobody has yet touched within each being. This is why I want to be here with you, on this day; here, in Chile, to make you relive My Presence, so that you can remember your commitment with Me, on this trajectory of the end of times that your humanity and the planet are facing.

I come here to recover those who distanced themselves from God for different circumstances, due to various sufferings or trials, or to the disappointments they have been allowed to experience, because of the poor faith in their hearts.

Today I speak to this country, that must again awaken to what it once was, from the beginning of the original peoples, those who really love Life and Creation, who preserve and care for Nature making it a part of themselves, communing with her, day by day.

It is the values of the original peoples, My companions, which will liberate you from everything that you live today. The original values are those which humanity is losing in these times, substituting God for modernities, placing your attention on external things and forgetting to look within yourselves every day and to seek what you are in Creation.

You have not come to this world only to be human beings, to live a material or artificial life. You have a very worthy spirit that is deeply unknown to you. Each time you approach Me you can discover and feel that, in truth, it is worth living in this time, despite what may happen.

Therefore I wish, by means of the original peoples of Chile, who showered the high mountains with their love, that the world may be able to recover these values of the true spirituality of Creation. For this reason, I need you to be close to Me, in order to renew these times, these critical times, in which humanity submerges in its own pain and moves away from God without looking for Him or calling Him.

I would like to hear your hearts pray and sing, like today; because today, My Mercy reaches not only you, but also the whole southern cone, which is what I expected to do if I had been in Punta de Arenas, so that My Light and My Mercy would reach Antarctica.

Do not remain only in what surrounds you daily, embrace the planet with love and put your attention on everything that it needs. Because the planet - as a consciousness, as nature and creation - is suffering, and humanity does not want to look at this, so as not to feel responsible for what it has done in these last times.

I have shed My Blood upon this planet to save you. This is why I am here again, to remind you of My Sacrifice, because it has not been in vain.

You, as so many other souls in the world, can make My Sacrifice during the Passion and the Cross worthy. There too are found the spiritual values you need in order to transform yourselves into the model that God expects you to be in this cycle.

I cannot refrain from telling you the Truth, companions, because it would not make sense for Me to be here, in this place and in this very moment to congregate you in My Love, to unite you to My Heart, so that you may commune with God, who is offended.

Each drop of love that you pour into your prayers and your songs relieves the planet; each drop of love that you pour into your prayers and your songs heals the planet; each drop of love that you pour into your prayers and your songs changes the events and many things are avoided in humanity.

I would like you to leave this place with the living Fire of My Heart in you, taking on the commitment in this new stage that I invite you to live, leaving behind all that you have been, leaving behind all that you have mistaken, because I do not come in search of your flaws, as I know that you are human beings in evolution.

I come to seek from you sincere hearts, honest hearts, hearts that are decided to live My Plan, even though you do not comprehend or understand it. Everything that I will always bring to you, from My Father's Universe, you will not understand, because it is not within your school.

To love the unknown is the first test of My disciples; to commit is the second step, and to take it on is the concretion of My Plan.

I come to look for all the hearts of the world, this is why I am here today in Chile, to form a new army of My Mercy, apostles, tireless servers that can come out of themselves a little more and look around them, where the great suffering of the world and of all the souls exists, as well as that of the Kingdoms of Nature.

I would like you to learn to honor and glorify what God has given you as a country, by means of the nature, the mountains, the ocean and all that Creation expresses, from north to south of this nation, and that coexists day by day with this people.

I need, companions, that you defend Creation with Me, so that human beings will not continue to destroy for their benefit, for their commodity, or for their luxury. I will take care of those who do all those things.

Remember that the day of the Final Judgment is written, when your Master and Lord will separate the chaff from the wheat, He will liberate the planet from the eternal suffering and will repopulate this world with new Christs who will live the experience of My Love in a true and conscious way, and what I say will no longer be a theory, but a reality in the hearts.

Chile needs to take a step towards reconciliation and forgiveness so that it may receive the new Graces from Heaven, as it was once intended to pour onto this people, some decades ago.

I come to correct what has been twisted in the consciousness of this people, that which has not been taught well, and has led them to not value that which is within each being, within their inner universe.

Therefore, I come from the Universe to bring you the new, what you now need in order to take the steps towards My Heart, which is full of Love and Graces for the creatures, which is thirsty for hearts that can commit themselves.

I come to give you the best that I have and what My Father has allowed Me to deliver to you, because this will make you free - believe it - if you leave here with an open consciousness. You are awakening to that for which your spirits have waited a long time, of which you are not very conscious because you do not know, this is understandable. You are awakening to what truly exists within you, which has great value for My Celestial Father.

Through this mystery that is found in each human being, and that must awaken, My Father will be able to rebuild the Earth and its humanity.

Today I am awakening the most inner treasures of this people, so that it may recognize My call and always say "yes" to Me, because thus they will be saying "yes" to My Father and to His Will.

I come to bring to you here, on this afternoon, the first Grace, the Grace of reconciliation. Reconciliation first among yourselves as a family, as a society, as a country; this will help so that the uncertain doors may close and the souls may find the path of light, a path that will lead them to redemption and to peace.

Chile needs to live its commitment to God in a true way, living it with the faith it deserves and with the trust it needs for this final time.

Today I radiate to you, with My Eucharistic Heart, a Sun brighter than all the suns of this Universe, so that My Codes of Life may be in you and that which has not yet been transformed, may be transfigured.

If you accept the first step of reconciliation, you will live redemption. The whole world is here to be redeemed, everyone needs to forgive something in order to be able to free themselves from suffering.

I Am this sun of compassion that brings to you the Mercy of the Father, so that your spirits and bodies may heal.

I would like to carry on My Chest the star of the flag of your people, not to remember the blood that was shed, but to transform the pain into love, the suffering into healing, injustice into equality.

Living the commitment with Me you will open the doors for many souls, that in their daily lives await to receive the same call that you have received in this time.

We will bless this Altar and this room, so that you may be worthy of receiving My Graces, renewing your hope and faith in My Heart and so that on this afternoon, your feet may be washed of all the past and you may be born to the new life.

Amen.

Our Father...

Once more...

On this afternoon I renew My Sacrifice; for the blood that was shed in this people, for the wounds that were inflicted, for the original peoples who disappeared, for the injustice that was generated, for the lack of the love that was dissipated from many consciousnesses, through power and manipulation.

Today I renew My Sacrifice offered during the Last Supper with My twelve apostles. Today I return to reintegrate Chile to the mystery of My Eucharist, My Passion, My Death and My Resurrection, renewing the Sacrament of faith and of reconciliation between the souls of this country that I adore, through My Eucharistic Heart.

I invite you to live in this way, companions, through this Eucharist, the adoration to My Eucharistic Body, seeking to transfigure, by means of the adoration, the corrupt codes of humanity so that everything may become rescuable, even the smallest cell the human consciousness.

Placing My Hands over these elements, I thank God for this sacrifice that I lived for you and for the world over two thousand years ago, saying: Take this, all of you, and eat it, for this is My Body that will liberate you from the past, which will lead you to eternal life; saying: Take this and drink from this Chalice, the Chalice of the new covenant that your people and your whole country must live so that the Kingdom of God may be established.

With the divine authority of our Creator, the Almighty, I bless these elements, I bless your consciousnesses and your lives: In the name of the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. Amen.

And now you may wash your feet, because the water has already been sanctified with My Presence.

Now I want you to call your sincere hearts, I want you to call in the depth of your beings, the most infinite corner of your essences, where the Truth and the Love of God exist. As My children from Argentina did, I want you to call the sincere heart by means of your voice, crying out for the awakening of this planet and for the reconciliation of humanity.

I thank you.

Pray for the world that is agonizing...(song: Sincere heart)
