MONTHLY MESSAGE OF THE MOST CHASTE HEART OF SAINT JOSEPH, TRANSMITTED IN THE MARIAN CENTER OF FIGUEIRA, TO THE VISIONARY SISTER LUCÍA

With humility, today I want you to learn about trust, a divine trust that comes from the Celestial Kingdom to be deposited upon the Kingdom Itself.

Today I say to you that many lack faith and full trust in God, to understand in this way the signs that we send you by means of the happenings of life and of the actions of others.

Today I transmit this to you because these are times of purification, times in which the changes of consciousness are happening in an accelerated manner, and those who resist transforming themselves suffer the friction that many times hurts their hearts and destabilizes their consciousness.

I hope that today you understand that everything that was announced throughout the centuries, all the happenings that before were kept in hidden scrolls, today have become current, and can no longer be hidden.

As Father and as Instructor I warn you that the time to mature with full trust has come. This is the moment that all suffer when they are about to cross the threshold of the maturing of consciousness.

But if you permit that the divine energy itself may illuminate the discernment, and show you the path, you will feel fluidity in each step, and you will be able to walk with profound harmony.

Do you remember when you were children and the moment came for your parents to not accompany you to school? This moment has come again. Your parents never stopped accompanying you, but they were not so near as before, and they did this out of love and out of necessity.

If you understand in truth what I say to you today, listen with attention to My words, and read what I write between the lines of My Divine word. It is time to listen, to assimilate, and to practice.

It is time to heal that which is ingrained in the consciousness, that which throughout time could not be liberated, because it did not have the permission from consciousness itself to do it.

My dears, My word penetrates the souls of those who know how to listen. For those who do not fear growing, there will be no pain that will stop them, and even if they recognize their own faults, when they are presented to them they will not hesitate to move ahead with all diligence of spirit and of heart.

Those who know how to listen to Me today, will know how to listen to My voice in the instructions that they receive by means of the instructors that I Myself have sent to them.

Do not create doubts, nor barriers. Fear before anything that you will not accomplish with precision the Plan that has been entrusted to you. And continue, continue with trust and with the banner of fraternity raised in your essences.

No one is outside My teaching of love, no one is outside My Heart.

To those who listen with attention to My words, to them will come the clarity to understand them.

I thank you today and always for being united to My Chaste Heart.

Your Father, Friend, and Instructor Saint Joseph.
