APPARITION OF MARY, ROSE OF PEACE, IN THE MARIAN CENTER OF FIGUEIRA, MINAS GERAIS, BRAZIL, TO THE VISIONARY FRIAR ELÍAS DEL SAGRADO CORAZÓN DE JESÚS

In the name of the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. Amen.

Tonight, dear children, I have delayed arriving here to this sacred place because your Heavenly Mother, through your prayers and songs, has helped the souls of the whole world that recently disincarnated and left the physical plane for other schools of the Universe.

These souls were suffering because they did not carry out something fundamental and important for these times, which is the Scapular of Peace. This sacred instrument of God that I once revealed and presented to you in Aurora so that all the souls of the world, all possible hearts, could carry this sacred instrument of God for these definitive and difficult times; because the Scapular of Peace not only protects souls that leave the physical plane, but also protects souls that are still incarnated, experiencing the lessons of Earth, living in the end of these times.

It is with this same Grace and this same Love that I once revealed to you in Aurora, in the sacred orange grove of Casa Redención, that today, My children, I again present to you the Sacred Scapular of Peace so that it may be valued and recognized by all as a source of salvation and a vehicle of protection even for the physical body.

Today I carry this sacred instrument in My Hands for you, this sacred object of God, so that you may make known to the world the importance of carrying this instrument upon your bodies and within your souls so that you may be protected from chaos, perdition, distraction or any illness.

For this reason, My children, the Holy Scapular has been presented to the world in other apparitions and times. In the same way that the Sacred Medallion of Peace has impeded calamities, has halted illnesses, has rescued entire peoples from catastrophes, epidemic or destruction, simply because, My children, all My dear children have placed their faith and devotion in the promises of your Heavenly Mother.

This is the time to take sacred objects into account because of what they represent and the value they have. For this reason, I again bring them to you so that you may remember that these sacred instruments of God, such as the Scapular of Peace and the Medallion of Peace of the Mother of the Divine Conception of the Trinity, are means by which you will be guarded by My maternal and supreme Grace, through the authority granted to Me by the Celestial Father from the beginning, from the moment in which My Son was on the Cross and He asked Me to be the Mother of humanity, to be the Mother of each one of you.

By carrying the Sacred Scapular upon you, My children, you will be able to perceive the promises that I have brought to the world through these sacred objects, which are still current for all of humanity, for all peoples, all races, in any place on the planet, in any situation and condition, because the sacred object is the path for your bodies, minds and hearts, to reinforce the faith of your heart and, above all, your trust in the Supreme Father.

For this reason, My Maternal Heart and My Divine Consciousness have a special task through sacred objects.

This is the time to again renew them and to again recognize them, with the power of the Grace they received for all souls in need of salvation, redemption and healing.

Like in previous times of the Earth, like in the culminating moments of humanity, so similar to this time, the Mother of God, the Lady of the Divine and Holy Scapular, the Lady of Carmen, today presents Herself to the world so that Her children may remember these Graces that were once given to the world for its liberation and salvation.

Each sacred object that is given to the world holds millions of Graces, spiritual promises, victories and triumphs that souls receive upon entering into contact with them. But the object is a means and a path for finding the Source of salvation, healing and freedom. Your devotion must be to the Source, to the Source of God, which is nonmaterial and divine, the Source that conceived and granted the world all the Graces that hearts need for this final moment.

In the same way that prayer, at this moment, is precious heard by the Father, coming from all hearts on Earth, the sacred objects, My children, also bring you inner and spiritual impulses that you need at this moment so that your consciousnesses may be focused on the necessary discernment and wisdom, so as to know how to act with caution, protection and safety, so that you may always find the truth and be not confused with appearances, with all the world reports.

By means of sacred objects, and on this day of the Holy Scapular, My children, you will be able to elevate your consciousnesses, you will be able to achieve another dimension and another reality, far from chaos, adversity and all the confusion that in this time is disseminated throughout the whole world.

Hundreds of angels that are with Me here today and also carry the Scapular of Peace wait for more of My children to put the Holy Scapular, the sacred object of God, upon their bodies and souls, so that nonmaterial Graces may descend to this physical plane and bring hearts total peace.

While you listen to My Words, I ask you to meditate upon, to reflect on and to perceive the occult meaning of everything I say to you, so that your consciousnesses may expand and be able to have the same vision and the same discernment that your Heavenly Mother transmits to you in this moment.

I also come tonight with a request: that all My children value the sacred objects that, up to today, have been given to the world through these apparitions and other apparitions of your Divine Mother throughout the course of time because, in this way, humanity will receive the Grace it needs, will receive the help it needs and will be protected by the Sacred Mantle of the Mother of God in these definitive and difficult times.

My Immaculate Heart is still full of Graces for the world, which seek to be poured into the hearts that open to receive them. But in this time you must learn, My children, to carry out the correct practice to receive these Graces that overflow from My Maternal Heart.

Your petitions must be for the common good of humanity and for all those who are lost so that they too may be saved, so that they may also awaken. It is time, My children, for your petitions and requests to be for the planet, for humanity, for the evolution of this race, for the fulfillment of the Human Project of God for this part of the Universe.

In this way, you will be closer to Me, together with Me asking the Father for our essences to be one, in the same way that our hearts may be one in the plea and in the purest intention of your heart, so that Divine Will may be fulfilled.

With the coming of My Son, during the next Holy Week, your Heavenly Mother and the Most Chaste Heart of Saint Joseph will accompany this coming sacred task, in which all are invited to participate and truly accompany from the heart and in truth.

With this I want to tell you, My children, as advice, that you should dedicate space and time for this task, and that you invite your families and dear ones, friends and acquaintances, who have still not awakened to the Call of God so that, through the meeting of this next Holy Week, they too receive the Grace and the awakening that they need, so that they finally position themselves as servants of the Plan and their errors may be forgiven, their sins dissolved and souls may re-ignite in love.

For now, I thank you for seriously addressing this request, as you have done many times.

It is when we are separated in this crucial moment of humanity that we really ascertain, My children, that under the omnipresence of God and the omnipotence of God, we are more united now than when we are together in these meetings.

But I continue to pray with all of My Heart so that the meetings, and especially the planetary situation, may become harmonized and balanced and, after this planetary retreat, souls may more strongly and with more faith take back their compliance with God, with His Will, reconsidering in their lives, looking again at their commitments, and becoming aware that the time has come for a change in consciousness, for the great and expected change.

The integrity and justice that humanity may experience at this moment will prevent the great events of the Apocalypse. Thus, this moment has an even greater and deeper meaning than the one you know.

This is the moment in which, in stillness, in prayer and in fasting, it will be possible to review each one of your lives, each one of your acts, to make room for Divine Will.

So be it.

With this message and this call, I say goodbye, and I ask you that with the time available to you now, you may review this message so that you remember what I requested at the beginning concerning the sacred objects of God, so necessary for the souls of the world; Graces, promises and victories that will come to souls with the help and the collaboration of those who can manifest these sacred objects, for a simple fact and a simple purpose, for the triumph of My Immaculate Heart.

Today, dear children, those who are listening to Me through this medium cannot see what I am doing, but they can feel what I am saying. This is where the truth is.

In this moment, while I rise up to Heaven to wait, together with My angels, to pour out the promises and Graces through the Holy Scapular, see Me mirrored within your souls with the image that each one can recognize in the Most Holy Mother of God. In this way, we will enter into spiritual, universal, and essential communion.

Through the song that you will now offer Me, confirm your vows to the Eternal Father and to My beloved Son.

We will listen to: "Mirarte a Ti (Looking at You)."

I thank you for responding to the call, for the sacred objects of God and for the awareness of your lives in this cycle, so that all the Healing and Light, Mercy and Love may descend to the world.

In the name of the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. Amen.
