MESSAGE FOR THE SPECIAL APPARITION IN THE MARIAN CENTER OF FIGUEIRA, MG, BRAZIL, TRANSMITTED BY THE MOST HOLY QUEEN OF PEACE TO THE VISIONARY SISTER LUCÍA

I come to the world as Healing Mother, healer of the souls and hearts that suffer the most. I come to say to you that My Love is the cure for all evils, at any level of the bodies, because there is nothing that before God and His infinite piety, that under the intercession of His Servant, cannot be healed.

My beloveds, My presence in the world is the cure for all the faults of humanity; it is the cure for all the kingdoms of nature; it is the cure for the planet itself, that today agonizes permanently.

This love that I bring to you, and which is the perfect remedy for all evils, must be poured over the world, by means of clean, pure, true and simple vessels, that may reflect the Love that I bring to you day by day.

For this I come to My little children in order to form those who will be the mirrors of My Peace and My Mercy, through which I will testify to My presence on Earth.

Those who do not see Me nor feel Me, will see Me and feel Me in the eyes and the heart of those children of Mine who have surrendered their lives completely in My arms, and no longer live for themselves, but for God.

Beloved children, to live the imitation of the Servant of God, and to express on Earth equality with Her, you must first open yourselves truly to live this wonderful fact, and then you must persist eternally on the path of constantly falling and standing up. Because in order that I may live in the hearts and Be in your lives, all of that which is not similar to My Heart must be extirpated and, for many, letting go of what one is not, in order to be empty before God, this is and will be very painful. But do not be afraid and seek to love this purpose of life, because Love itself can act also, and transform that which is ingrained in your consciences.

Do not worry if you are not perfect and if you constantly discover that what was a great and immutable truth to you yesterday, has become a poor illusion today. The eyes that mature are transformed and, for every child it is difficult to abandon the illusions of childhood, but it is still even greater what awaits in the maturity.

Beloved children, you are no longer children in spirit nor in consciousness, and the moment has come to mature and to live in matter what you already know that exists in the silence of the heart. I only ask you to never be discouraged and that you may be able to become malleable creatures in the hands of the Creator.

Do not be afraid to leave behind what you have been until this moment; and may the Faith in something superior and unknown be greater than the incomprehension that today comes to your mind. A child will never understand the life of the parents, no matter how much they believe they understand, until they become an adult and look back to see how much they were wrong and how they really knew nothing of that life.

Walk only in the Faith of the heart, knowing that there is much to be healed in all the consciousnesses of the Earth. There is not, and there has never been in the world someone who has reached the holiness of Christ; but there have been those who have sought for it persevering until the end of the life, and today continue to seek for it in the Kingdom of the Heavens, now walking by His side, by means of the merits reached on Earth.

Happy are those who persevere in the search for perfection with joy and peace of spirit. Never lose the Peace that I bring to your lives, and day by day allow yourselves to be in My maternal arms.

What you cannot reach by your own self, make an effort to offer truly to God and let Him, Who is perfect, be in charge of His imperfect creatures.

I love you always, and I am at the side each one of you.

Mary, Mother and Queen of Peace
