

Saturday, June 29, 2013

DAILY MESSAGE OF CHRIST JESUS, TRANSMITTED TO THE VISIONARY FRIAR ELÍAS

I contemplate the tired hearts and the hearts that rest in the other hearts.

In My Work there are the ones who sacrifice and the ones who try to live sacrifice.

In My Work there is the server and the one who is serving for a greater reason.

But all pass through the school of surrender and of sacrifice, in this way I relate Myself to My friends. To some I give My Will and to others I give My Aspirations for something good and better.

But all have the same place in My Heart because there are not two paths to get to Me, but only one, a path of renunciation and sacrifice that will permit you to achieve the state of humility.

For this those who are with Me are those that do greater part of the work, for those who are comfortable and for those who are blind without being able to encounter the life of spirit. Thus I always make use of the same ones. My Heart ennobles Itself and rejoices Itself when a disciple does an extraordinary, loving and abnegated service. In this way I am seeing the mature fruit of the merciful seeds that I have sown in each being.

The one who gives all for Me and for the fulfillment of My Plan will receive the gifts of My Love. I will also give to you My Sacrifice, that which I lived on the Cross for all. I will also give you a similar cross so that you may know how to carry it in your back for those who abruptly are lost without leaving footprints of the presence of their most little spirits.

For this, all that you may receive in My Name will give you strength to love the power of the surrender and the sacrifice offered out of love and for the redemption of humanity. In this way you will see the fruit and the merits of your work in the salvation of those who were dead in life, separated from My Light and who by your Graces will reach Eternity and Mercy.

Guard in your hearts the hope of finding in the Kingdom of the Heavens the true treasure for your spirits because there you will rest between My Arms as good redeemed sheep.

Under the Light of the Father, be blessed of soul and of heart.

Thank you for meditating on My Words with the heart!

Christ Jesus.