

Tuesday, February 25, 2014

MESSAGE FOR THE APPARITION IN THE CITY OF VENEZUELA, CARACAS, TRANSMITTED BY THE MOST HOLY QUEEN OF PEACE TO THE VISIONARY SISTER LUCÍA

Children of Mine,

I come to the world in this time so that those who clamor for Mercy may receive from the Divine Source this fountain of Life.

Today I say to you that there will always be, in the darkness, a possibility of finding Light, because your little hearts contain in themselves a precious treasure - Love - that brings to you the possibility of opening the doors of Heaven and to arrive at the feet of the Creator.

My little ones, today I am the mediator between your hearts and God, but the moment will come in which all of you will be mediators between the universes and Him. I come today to teach you step by step to open your hearts and to show you the path to awakening; but the moment must come in which your beings will have matured and will no longer need mediators in order to find God, but you will be the mediators and the intercessors that, before Him, will beg for all of those who did not know how to find Him.

This mission goes beyond this life. I prepare you for something greater than the life in this world. I prepare you to be mediators and intercessors in the universe, and to find all of those who have been lost from the path of the Father and that suffer in the darkness.

My children, I come at the request of the Lord to prepare the path for My Son, who will teach you definitively how to follow His steps; which will open to you for eternity the eyes and the heart; and which will make similar to Him the one who says yes to Him, without fear nor conditions.

Today I say to you that for this reason, you are living such hard trials at this end of the times, so that before such great difficulties you may surrender yourself to God and clamor so strongly for His presence, awakening in this way the potential of Love asleep in your hearts.

Do not fear the times that have already come, only be open to live them and fully feel the clamor that is born from your hearts and that opens one by one the doors of Heaven.

Feel! Clamor! Ask! Beg for Divine Mercy! Surrender yourself to God that knows everything and knows you as none of you know yourselves, and that even still loves you in each detail of your beings.

My beloved ones, trust the Plans of God and permit that He may awaken in this race, that is perfect, the hidden potential in the interior of each being. Say yes to God each day through the example of donation and surrender. Give to the world witness of Faith and show to those who are lost the path that they must follow.

I accompany you and I will always accompany you and even if My lips one day may be in silence, My Heart will never stop uttering fervent prayers to God, so that even the last of My children may reach Redemption and may accomplish the perfect Purpose of the Creator.

I love you and I will always love you.

The beloved Mother and your companion,

Mary, Queen of Peace and of your lives