WEEKLY MESSAGE OF SAINT JOSEPH, TRANSMITTED IN THE MARIAN CENTER OF FIGUEIRA, BRAZIL, TO THE VISIONARY SISTER LUCÍA DE JESÚS

Calm your heart in the Source of Peace of the Universe. There is no weight upon the cross of the world that it and its humanity cannot carry.

Contemplate with peace the calvary of these times, because you were born for this, you came to the world at this moment of humanity for this.

Allow the pacifying example of Christ to inspire you and transform your miseries and anguishes into the certainty of the absolute triumph of God through your sacrifice.

You were called to humility, renunciation, sacrifice, and sometimes, child, also to denial, so as to be tested in faith and in the true love that God calls you to experience.

Christic Love is forged in surrender and surrender is forged in emptiness and transparency. Therefore you will see the layers of illusion fall before your eyes and you will be empty before God and people. Everyone will recognize themselves as they are and there will be no hidden lie, just as there will not be truth or virtues that can be hidden.

This will be so because the Presence of Christ reveals the reality, and the transparency in the consciousness of humankind is one of the signs of His Return to the world.

Therefore, My child, focus on this Truth and do not be anguished for not finding a reference on Earth, because everything in the world has been built based on vanity and human illusion.

New bases must be built under your feet and, for this, you must recognize that you are stepping on false ground. Let it disappear and remain held in the Mystery of God, until He purifies you and reveals to you the Truth upon which you should walk.

This will be a difficult time, but of much relief and hope for those who always sought the truth and did not find any sense in the illusions experienced in this world.

Rejoice, perceiving that the signs of the final times announce the Return of Christ and, without ceasing to suffer, renounce, and surrender your spirit to God, find the hidden meaning of all your trials. Allow your spirit to grow, and may the faith which you do not know yet emerge from your little heart.

The Sacrifice of Christ forged an unknown Love for all Creation and for God Himself, who was renewed by the Cross of His Son. Give yourself an opportunity to be and to experience something new and allow your Father, and God, to renew Himself through your little heart.

This is a great universal mystery: that the Creator of all things renews Himself through the smallest of His creatures.

But today I tell you that there is something hidden within you that you do not know, and it is God Himself, who renews Himself within you, through the vehicle of your sacrifice and surrender. Trust in this hidden Presence and allow Him, who can do all things, to be the one who experiences these final times through you.

Be a true instrument of the Father. Awaken this Divine Presence through Love and disappear from yourself, so that the One and Only, who is worthy of living within your heart, may emerge.

He who gives you an impulse to the union with the Father,

The Most Chaste Saint Joseph
