PRIVATE APPARITION OF THE VIRGIN MARY, IN MALDONADO, URUGUAY, TO THE VISIONARY FRIAR ELÍAS DEL SAGRADO CORAZÓN DE JESÚS

In the name of the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. Amen.

Today I come to the world, together with the angels of Light, to tell each one of My children to be firm, continue forward. The end of the battle has not yet arrived, the uncertain doors are opening on the surface of the Earth so that the soldiers of Light can liberate them through prayer.

Thus, you will open the Source of the Mirrors upon the surface of the Earth, the intervention will come and everything will be transformed.

In the battle against duality, do not allow your contrary side to defeat you; be firm and be brave, participate in the commands of Christ, raise your swords towards God, in offering and renunciation, and thus you will be touched by the Holy Spirit.

In these clashes of the end of times, sustain yourselves in faith, in the credibility of the existence of God, above all forms, all events, all conflicts.

The battle has not reached its end, the end will be written by each one of you, through your conscious participation in the Plan of My Son, through your collaboration in the projects of redemption, through your constant self-giving.

Meanwhile, do not lower your vigilance, be attentive to the movement of your inner world.

Nourish your essences with positive vibrations, place your consciousness in the Higher World and from there will come all the help that you may need.

The falls are part of this battle, of a hard and cold battle, in which thoughts and emotions must not interfere.

Your more concrete nuclei must collaborate in this rescue operation. For this, your unity with the Source is important, in spite of what may happen in any part of the world.

Remember the Celestial Universe, remember the angels and the archangels. The great ultra-terrestrial hosts, which deeply know the human project and know the history this planet has lived throughout the different races and peoples.

It is the time when the pendulum returns with great force, and when its blow triggers the events in humanity, through nature and purification.

Many distance themselves from the Law and the truth, day by day, they submerge in the abysses of this Earth, in the darkest places of the human consciousness.

But the door toward the unknown is there before you, in the sidereal universe, where all immaterial and universal life awaits you, to lead you toward a deeper contact with true existence, to which you have belonged since the beginning, since your origins.

Now, children of God, you know a great part of all that I tell you. You know that you come from a Source, that you emerged from a great Lake of Light, where the Creator Fathers participated in your creation, in the first steps of your existence, and that you traveled this macrocosm to learn and grow internally, to know in each step to be in the Law and to not leave it.

Thus, you arrived on Earth, in this world that was contemplated by My Son so that you could live your redemption and your conversion. And thus, to each one, the hour has come to awaken, just as for many of My children the time to awaken comes today, so that you can make the star of your origin shine within you, as the testimonial of the truth that you have lived, since the Beginning of the beginning, since the emergence from the Source.

In this state of vibration, you must place your consciousnesses, and not in chaos. The chaos will keep taking place, the chaos will keep developing and showing itself, but you must not enter into conflict nor into disharmony.

Your souls must live self-government and the path of the transcendence of the lower currents that suffocate the world and many servers, the priests of the Church of Christ.

But now, in spite of what is happening in the world, in the nations and in the peoples, your gaze must be upon the objective of the spiritual and material reconstruction. In this way, the Creation will send you the impulses that you need in order to lead humanity to the path of absolute and total redemption.

Many will refuse to cross the doors towards the truth. But do not worry, have faith and serve God unconditionally, without expecting results, without expecting answers, only serve out of love and faith in the Heights.

The reactions of the contrary forces are diverse throughout this world.

Humanity does not know from where they come and when they emerged. But I can tell you, My children, that many of these forces of chaos are generated by the humanity of this time.

My children's feet are tied to them, and many fight to cut this chain of evil, to know how to free themselves from the ties, from the conditions, from adversity.

But your hearts must always be empty, free from any disturbance and situation, absolved from criticism and value judgments so that you can be freer and freer at the moment of walking towards My Son in this time of tribulation when humanity exposes itself to succumbing into a deeper and more unknown abyss.

But if for a moment you see the sky, and at night you see the stars, the cosmos, the great celestial dome, then all that happens in this world will become small and insignificant. As the help that can come from the Heights is very great and also unknown, this is where you must place your gaze, your attention and devotion, because in this way you will remember where you came from and what you did in other times.

The mirrors of the universe work towards the Earth as they have never worked before. Great spiritual movements take place in the universe, day by day, as this very crucial time of humanity passes, to send toward the planet all the necessary luminous impulses that can help in the rescue of souls and of the Kingdoms of Nature.

But when the world deters its evil actions, suffering will cease, blood will no longer run through the streets of this world, there will no longer be martyrs, people in exile nor immigrants. Families will not be the focus of disunity and discord.

This is why I ask you to pray in this very special month to Me and to your Lord, to the Highest, because what will come next year will be more complex.

While souls do not accept that we are in the end of times, they will suffer, and they might suffer a lot due to their resistances. What will they gain with that?

Hold on to this call, and a path will show itself before you, to lead you and guide you toward the heart of My Son, wounded and injured by the actions of the world and of the nations.

At last, He will come for the simplest and most humble, for those who have been severely traumatized and punished.

He will come for those who are waiting for Him, for those who love Him, for those who have lost peace.

He will come to seek those who are in the refuges of this world and He will raise from the hospital beds those who are sick so that they may go and see Him in His Return.

And those who have suffered the loss of their beloved beings will be consoled.

And the families will become aware of the disunity that they have lived throughout the times through the advancement of technology and the modernities, replacing dialogue.

For this reason, your strength will always be in prayer. There is no other master key, it is unique and unchangeable.

You must not fear what will happen, what will happen will be what humanity needs in order to consciously live what it has sown along its paths, which it will be reaping in this time.

The law exists so that we may live in attunement and alignment with the cosmos, and with all cosmic life.

And thus, living in the law, all is completed in the life and the existence of a being.

I wish you could hear this with other ears, because I not only need that you hear, but also that you understand, beyond what I tell you.

Today I am present here for all the situations of humanity, so that all the situations may be attended to, by the spiritual plan, by the Source.

I give you my consolation and the certainty that My Son will return.

In the name of the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. Amen.
