

Friday, October 20, 2017

Apparition of Jesus Christ during the Sacred Call, in the city of Mendoza, Province of Mendoza, Argentina, to the visionary Friar Elías del Sagrado Corazón

Today My Presence descends from these high mountains bringing you renovation, the principle of reparation and of cure.

I descend from the Universe with all the Majesty of My Father and brighten the darkest places with My Presence.

And so the Project of God once more triumphs and nobody, nobody will be left behind, because I will come on a moon-lit night to search for My most lost sheep.

I will come in the night of major despair, of major unrest, in the night of perdition.

I will come in the night, when the world still does not look toward God. I will come to call everyone and with My Feet I will touch this ground created by the Most High in His image and likeness.

I will gather those who have called themselves and also those who have not summoned themselves. I will not lose sight of anyone.

I will call by their names the children of God and I will reunite the Adams and Eves to receive in their essence, the Christic code of My atonement.

I will repopulate Earth and fulfill the promises one by one. The Word of God will be heard at the top of the mountain, and the ancient people of the desert will return to walk towards the mountaintop and they will see the Son of God coming in Mercy and splendor, more brilliant than the Sun, more luminous than all the stars.

It will be the living God who returns to the world, to pour upon the souls His Infinite Grace and as an order of the Almighty, by the intercession of the Divine and Sacred Son, the abysses will close and the crying of this Earth will never more be heard. The souls will cry of joy and not of suffering because through My Sacred Heart, I will bring the most powerful Compassion, that will transform the most impossible things.

You will see the Son of God with the Scepter of the Father indicating that in the East as well as in the West, in the four points of Earth the Holy Archangels of the Creator are gathered.

The Holy Books will be opened and everybody will know the new commandments.

Woe to those who have not fulfilled them! Woe to those who have not repented from the heart, not even prayed to implore for My Holy Name! Because I Am Jesus, the Christ. Who sits at the right of God, Who governs these universes and others, to make of this Creation the new beings of love and of mercy who will repopulate this planet.

And finally for the sacrifice of My Passion and of My Cross, Earth will be joyful. There will be no pain, sickness, guilt or sin, because the one who has fallen at the feet of the Creator will be defeated and the powerful Sword of Emmanuel will be placed upon this planet.

And when all is in a great confusion, dear children of My Father, that will be the sign that the most powerful star of this Universe will approach Earth and all will feel inside them the definite hour.

The children of goodness and also those who have not done good will be called. Nothing will remain hidden. Believe it! My promise will be fulfilled. There will be no more injustice, theft, unrest, human sacrifice. There will be no blood running because My Blood ran over this ground to save you, each one of you.

Woe to those who turn their back to God and who generate wars, conflicts and sickness that does not exist!

They should prostrate before the Creator and at this hour their hearts must be merciful, more than they are today, so as to forgive them in My Name and for My Heart to triumph.

From chests will be born the new mandalas of light and the true essence of the creatures will be manifested. There will be no more ignorance on Earth, lack of knowledge or indifference, because those who have not loved God nor their brothers and sisters, I tell you, companions, they will not be here anymore because the Father is merciful and fair, and has a place prepared for each soul.

At this time, on the top of the Mountain and in the presence of the First Born, you should leave your swords and all your weapons, because My Heart that is merciful and kind, fair and compassionate, will detain all the nuclear and destructive weapons of this planet.

And in spite of the world drowning itself at this time in its own illusion, I promise you that the New Christs will be born and they will not be few, because I will call them by their name as God called Moses, Abraham and the ancient Patriarchs.

The Sacred Book, the Bible, will finally be rewritten. You will tell the history at this time, the new history of Love for the New Humanity.

And so the holy archangels and their legions of the whole Universe, will be with their sacred books opened and on the blank sheets they will write the new sign that the redeemer will bring to this humanity.

There will still be captivity. Humanity has still decided to learn through suffering, but I invite you, beloved of Mine, to always search life through the Law.

May your hearts be transparent to be near Me. May your real faces of love appear and that there will be no more masks to hide the real being, in his profound pain and agony.

I have come here to Argentina because I have chosen it, as the other nations of this Southern Cone, for My return. And it will not be only words, but you will see the Son of God coming as a great Sun on the highest of the mountains.

All, absolutely all, will feel His Presence and there will be no more separation, ever again, between Heaven and Earth, because the blessed ones will come reflecting through their hearts the experience and My Redemptive Project.

And the nations will not be separated anymore, because everybody will speak the language of Love. So all will understand each other, as Mine in the past have understood Me.

I will not let the stars that I have chosen to shine, turn off. Trust what I tell you. Feel the love in all that I pronounce, because in spite of your deserts, your sufferings, I know you one by one, and the great day will come when you will be freed. The ties will tear apart, because I will cut with My Sword what causes pain in this world.

May your hearts rejoice, companions, in the four corners of the Earth, because My hour is approaching. Now not the hour of My Death, but the time of My Return. But first I will be present, because it is what I want most: to be present in your hearts, so that all humanity, all races, all peoples, recognize the humble Savior.

That your hopes not be lost, that your joy does not end, because all that My Father hands you at this moment is part of your purification. Do not give up, do not sink, do not feel that you will drown, because I am here to be with the world, that is losing itself and is unfaithful.

I am here for all, the fair and unfair ones, for those you believe I am here and for those who do not believe.

I ask those who do not listen to Me not to forget God, because He is full of Mercy and hope to deliver it to your hearts.

I ask you to remember My Presence in the Holy Eucharist for the Tabernacles that inhabit each soul not to fall.

Bear the Cosmic Fire of the Redemption. Earth and its humanity are going through its most crucial and definite time.

Thanks to you and to your small sacrifices, today I can be here in Argentina, because this nation belongs to Me. This ancient nation that once found Me, belongs to Me.

I expect from this nation equality, justice and above all, solidarity, because there are many souls who suffer here and who are in faraway lands, waiting for the balm of My Love, so that they may be nourished in spirit and in life.

Do not stop serving Me. And in spite of your errors and your constant falls, do not forget to search for Me. I come here for your inner universe, for the most grandiose richness that the Father has left in each human heart.

Do not let My enemy confuse you nor trick you, because if you are in Me at each moment, at each second, with each breath, I will be in you; for My Father is in Me and so you will be in My Father. He awaits you to the end of days, to the end of times.

I have left many Graces in this place, above all on the top of these mountains, for the whole world to recognize that here, in the mountains of Argentina, as in the mountains of Chile, you can find in silence, in prayer, in contemplation, this wonderful experience of Love that God has given you through His Creation.

May the hearts that feel they have fallen, arise, that the doors of evil close, that all the self-summoned sustain for Christ the banner of Peace until the end; for the time and the moment will come that the world will recognize and will be surprised to see the humble Son of God arrive at the planet.

May the advent of the New Christs be fulfilled. May the souls which separated themselves from God awaken because the Lord God, the Almighty, has sent the Divine Word to be heard at this moment in the whole planet.

So feel comforted and consoled in the eternal plenitude of My Heart, because I will wait for you on some plane high on these mountains, for the whole humanity to share in the new redemptive communion with your Master and Lord, the Christ.

I raise to My God, the Almighty Emmanuel, Father and Mother of this Creation:

Listen again to the Voice of Your very Beloved Son, who surrendered for Love to the Passion and Death to make His codes of Life flourish in the souls.

Emmanuel, descend Your Source upon this part of the world. Do not look at the mistakes of Your children, but to the presence of Your Gifts in all souls, so that Your Plan in this humanity may be fulfilled, Father. Amen.

I come to bless you with the Love that transfigures you, that raises you, that makes you conscious. By means of the Communion with My Body and with My Blood I come to give you the absolution, for you to meditate and reflect on the new steps that you have to take in your lives for My Project.

May those who have been unfair, repent.

May those who offended with their thought, make penitence.

May those who are not encouraged to live Love through pain, do so, because I have taught you to love each other for My Sacred Heart to triumph in this world.

I ask you Father on this evening, to bless this nation, that is about to make a mistaken decision, but I know that it is fair for You, Father, that everybody learns some day to live goodness and equality.

However, the time will come when nothing else will be necessary between the souls and the nations, because I will come bringing the Scepter of God, the Heavenly Government, and finally the Laws on this planet will be fair and will be united to the Creator.

Raise your Hearts before My Heavenly Church. May the Angels who congregate today for this ceremony at the foot of these sacred mountains, receive with your hearts the most simple and pure offering, so that many lives on Earth may be rescued, as yours were rescued.

Holy Father, Highest Lord of all creation, of all the visible and invisible, I repeat again before Your Sacred Presence in the simple hearts, the great formula of transubstantiation, so these elements can become redemption and new life in the souls.

Some time ago I said to My apostles and to all of you reunited as souls in the Sacred Tabernacle and your Redeemer, that I took the bread, gave thanks to the Father for Him to bless it and said: "Take and eat all from It, because this is My Body, My Essence, My Spirit, that will be given for you and for all beings."

After communing with My Body, that was to be given, I took the Chalice, the Sacred Chalice of Redemption, raised it and gave thanks to God for the Father to bless it and said looking into your eyes: "Take and drink from It, because this is My Blood, Precious Blood of the New Alliance between the souls and God, that will be shed for the beings in the Passion, Cross, Death of your Master, for the forgiveness of the sins."

Do this in My memory, so I can always be present in you until My return.

I raise to Heaven, Father, this Sacred Sacrifice for all the souls to merge in You and in Your Father, that You can do it all, that You can realize it all, that You can manifest it all, and be in Your children for eternity.

Now bring me the new hearts for My new daughters, Helpers of Mercy. I wish to give a special Grace on this evening to these souls, who through different paths, have trusted their Redeemer and the power of the invincible love that in spite of all has lived in them in these times and in face of the last events.

Offer your suffering to God, although unknown to you, My daughters, for your Master to be able to feel pleased when seeing the offering of your hearts, the effort of your souls for being near, very near to your Lord.

I come to bless you, My daughters, with the Source of My Spirit, with the kindness of My Soul and with all the Love of My Heart, for you to know that in spite of what happens, never, you will never be alone; for My Presence is Infinite, My Spirit is Omnipresent and My Divinity is Omnipotent.

I come to offer you the same Grace I offered to the ancient women of Jerusalem who cried the Passion of your Lord, who were at the feet of the Cross contemplating in the unknown the great sacrifice of their Son. Who were near Mary, My Mother, experiencing the silence, the injustice and the pain, for a greater Love that came to this world after My Death.

I come to give you what I am, for you to give Me what you are at this time. Amen.

I bless these golden hearts, for them to represent on this material plane the Presence of My Spirit in the souls who walk the path of consecration.

Let My daughters come here now.

I will follow this small ceremony of consecration as Helpers of the Divine Mercy of My Heart for these times, in which forgiveness and redemption is necessary in the whole planet.

That the Lord blesses this new task.

Through this oil, My daughters, I give back to you what was given once to Me at the Tomb: the love of your hearts.

And now receive the alliance with My Heart.

Now you will receive the Communion with My Body and My Blood.

And now I will go to Heaven, a place where I come from and the center of this Universe.

I leave in rejoicing to see your souls in communion with Me, through the Divine Word and through this ceremony of Love that tries to strengthen your souls and your lives for the coming times.

I want to listen to a song that has touched My Heart many times. The song of My son Nathanael, who brings as a message the redemption of the souls and the union of them to My Heart.

I would like this song, with its strength and impetus, to reach the whole world at this moment, with a radiation of love, cure and liberation to relieve the suffering, for Compassion to reign. Amen.

I bless you in the name of the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. Amen.

Thanks Argentina for having received me.

Remember that I never forget you. Never!