Special message received of the Blessed Mother of God, transmitted in the city of Santo Tome, Santa Fe, Argentina, to the visionary Friar Elias

In these times of trials, confirmations and surrenders, I invite you to the path of overcoming. Your Eternal Father contemplates with attention the certain and sure steps that all His beloved children are taking in this time of spiritual and material crisis.

I come on this day to announce to you a new cycle, after all these years shared with Me through the sacred Instructions from Heaven that I have delivered to you.

Dear children, I have come on pilgrimage to Santa Fe, to remind humanity that in these times, only faith and the path of permanent prayer will save you.

Now, God has asked me that His beloved children learn how to discover the universe of inner growth, through trials and experiences.

Before the enemy wants to take you out of the path, I have come to rescue you, bringing you this important message of preparation for the end of times.

You, My beloved children, are called to form an army of prayer and light, capable of being a vessel of divine and supreme energies.

But for that to be possible, I have come to announce to you, as a spiritual synthesis, the time of your transformation and purification.

All humanity is hypnotized and sleepwalking due to the harmful effect of modernities and human advances. I ask you, in the name of My Son, not to be afraid to let go of those artificial things that hurt you within, may your true communication be with God and the entire Higher Universe.

If souls would truly seek union with the High and the Supreme, many circumstances would not happen in the material life of My children. In this final cycle, as I have already told you, I come to untie the great knot of unconsciousness and lack of attention.

As your Celestial Mother, I wish you to take the steps towards the awakening of a new life united to all the universal Creation to which you belong. My urgency is to bring you out of the sleep generated by modernities and the lack of connection with the supreme Laws.

You were all born to live in happiness and love. The disorder of the world and the lack of balance generated irreversible effects in the lives of My children and many were led, by themselves, on the path of sadness, pain and illness.

God has asked me to tell you, for the last time, that Heaven will open to receive you all, He will shed Graces and blessings upon all those who do not deserve them.

Therefore, children, courageously face this last cycle of hard trials and confirmations so that the Light of Christ may bloom within you.

Day and night, I wait for you and, from Heaven, I pray for everyone so that the majority of My dear children may understand that the time has come to stop thinking of yourselves, to begin thinking of the world and the need of service and prayer for this last humanity.

In this way, My Heart is offered to you, so that with awareness and surrender you may recognize the Voice of God, which resounds in the universe and calls you to awaken.

In this last monthly Message, I invite you to make a compilation of all the Messages so that you may live and practice them, so that you may be prepared for that which is to come.

For this meeting with God, let us remain united in prayer, for these moments.

Thank you for your inner attention,

Your Mother Mary, Queen of Peace
