

Monday, June 19, 2017

Daily Message of Mary, Rose of Peace, transmitted in the city of Avila, Castilla y León, Spain, to the visionary Friar Elías del Sagrado Corazón

If souls could recognize that in the Instruction of the Sacred Hearts lies the keys to experience the long-awaited inner transformation, maybe consciousnesses would avoid making hasty decisions and committing errors.

Instruction is a source of wisdom and encourages discernment. At the same time, it tries to not only correct and improve, but also to awaken and deepen the principles of a life consecrated to the Plan of God.

When the Instruction of the Divinity is not correctly assimilated and contemplated, the consciousness runs the spiritual risk that its lower aspects govern its life and make it dependent on their actions.

Instruction tries to remedy human attitudes and elevate the consciousness from the rudimentary levels where it is usually found.

Instruction, united with prayer, causes the need to change soon to blossom more quickly in the consciousness, in order to become an instrument in the Hands of God, in service to His Divine Will.

In these times, one who does not bring instruction and prayer together as one teaching could be left behind in the last steps of the awakening.

I thank you for responding to My call!

Who blesses you,

Your Mother Mary, Rose of Peace