

Sunday, June 3, 2012

Dear children,

Find a safe refuge in My Son, Jesus, so that in this way He fills you with His gifts of peace and love. Search, through prayer for the Kingdom of Heaven. Cultivate meekness in your hearts so that in your lives is awakened humility. Remember all the works of charity you may perform, from the one to the other. Elevate your souls to the Merciful Heart of God because it is through Christ that you will find the true life and the true path.

For this dear children, today again I call you to the importance of converting yourself into Marian columns of prayer, into lights of Christ for the painful world, and in this exercise of consecration to God you will be from your hearts, allowing God to place His eyes of compassion and love on all those who still deny Him.

For this My children, each prayer repairs, each prayer rebuilds a new bridge of peace between Heaven and Earth. If you knew how Heaven is your little hearts would want to come with Me to this beloved place of Peace. But for this to occur all humanity must arrive at the great Heaven, where Christ reigns as the Fountain of Redeeming Love for all creatures.

For this dear children, the ample practice of permanent prayer will permit you to mature as consciences so that the wisdom of the Holy Spirit may lead you in humility to the Will of God.

The Father has a precious Plan of Love for each creature, it is only that as time goes by the souls are distracted from the purpose of God by the temptations of the world and thus they find failure and lack of consolation and love.

For this I invite you so that through prayer, you pray today so that the purpose of God is fulfilled in each human heart according to the divine purpose.

I thank you!

Thank you for answering My call.

Mary, Mother of the Divine Conception of the Trinity.