WEEKLY MESSAGE OF SAINT JOSEPH TRANSMITTED IN THE MARIAN CENTER OF AURORA, PAYSANDU, URUGUAY TO THE VISIONARY SISTER LUCÍA DE JESÚS

Let peace be established in the hearts that cry out to God to know His Purpose and His Will.

Let peace be established in the hearts of those who suffer the consequences of a time of chaos, wars and conflicts.

Let peace be established in the hearts of those who fear the end of times, a higher definition which must be established on the planet.

Let peace be a reality, children, in the hearts of all the servers of Christ, in spite of what happens around them, for they must always stay in the Heart of the Redeemer, and through this, be His instruments and bring peace to the world and to life.

Dispel anguish through contact with the Creator.

Dispel doubts in a sincere dialogue with God.

Dispel fears by looking at yourselves with clarity, because the truth, children, only shows itself to those who allow themselves to clearly see themselves.

Do not be afraid of losing yourselves, do not be afraid of losing control over life, because blessed will be the humble and those who humble themselves, first in light of their own consciousness, finding the freedom that comes from seeing oneself clearly and being capable of consciously working on one's own transformation.

Do not close your eyes to what is inside you, seeking the light of transformation, because when you open your eyes to what must be transformed within yourselves, it is then, children, when the world will also open its eyes to transform the core of the human condition.

Those who listen to the Words which come from Heaven, from the center of the Heart of God through His Messengers must be the first to turn their eyes to their own heart and say:

*"Show me, Lord, what I need to see.
Allow me to find what distances me from You,
so my consciousness may dispel the interferences and embrace with simplicity the Grace and the freedom of the transformation."*

If the servers of Christ deepen their transformation, they will open the doors so that humanity is able to receive within itself the impulses that lead to a new cycle, in which it will be capable of going beyond the chaos, the terror and the conflicts, to find the freedom that exists within itself.

Children, do you perceive that the time to submerge yourselves in that which is real has come?

Do you perceive that without submerging yourselves in the deep waters of the ocean of consciousness, you will be carried away by the waves that stir up the surface of human life?

Do you perceive that, without plunging in and losing your fear of what you will find in the unknown ocean of yourselves, you will never discover the real life that dwells within you?

Imagine a sea agitated and full of great waves, affected by strong winds that stir up its waters in all directions; this is how the human consciousness is today, confused among all the winds that blow and stimulate it in all directions, without knowing where to go, without managing to give a direction to its own energy and the movement of its life.

However, in the depths of the ocean there is peace. In the depths of the consciousness there is an unknown life, and yet, children, the deeper, the darker it is, the greater the Graces that will be revealed to you.

The winds of superficial life distract and confuse you, and the apparent darkness of your own inner self causes you to be afraid of submerging into yourselves; but all this is part of the illusion of these times.

For this reason, I will never stop telling you that the key for sustaining yourselves in this time is to look sincerely at yourselves, plunge into your own inner self and find the freedom to be imperfect, sincere and willing to be transformed, and allow yourselves to be corrected, allow yourselves to fall and get up and always go deeper, where peace and unity with God dwell.

You have My blessing for this.

Your father and friend,

The Most Chaste Saint Joseph
