1 In this month of May that now begins, may the prayer of the Rosary be the preamble and also the inner preparation for the upcoming events.

2 What I most love is to be able to guide My sheep and that My sheep accomplish, in obedience and in love, all that I tell them.

3 It is in silence that you will be beyond the stimuli of the world and you will constantly transmute them so that they do not take you off your path.

4 Come to My Fount of Love and wash yourself so that you may be healed. Come to My Fount of Love and purify yourself so that you may be renewed.

5 As the Mother of all families in the world, I come to thank the souls that have been persevering in praying for the families of the whole world.

6 Be bearers of My Peace so that Peace may be in the world and where it is most needed.

7 Silence then, and discover the simple and profound mysteries of the act of silencing.

8 In this month of May, I come to walk by your side as the pilgrim Mother, as the Mother of the Holy Rosary.

9 If you are afraid of the unknown, it is because up until now you have not loved the Will of God.

10 When you seek renewal of love and, with your imperfection, you aspire to live this renewal, it comes toward you, because this is part of a Law.

11 Come to My Fount of Love and draw near so that God may bless you. Come to My Fount of Love and consecrated yourself so that you may learn to live the Will of God.

12 May your acts, gestures and actions be merciful so that this civilization, of the present times, may recover its contact with the essence of Love-Wisdom.

13 Do not fear, because I will not abandon you. But each soul has its timing and its moment to take its step in profound and inextinguishable solitude.

14 Look deep into your heart and search there for what God built within you; that is your true treasure.

15 This is the time that I had announced in Fatima, when My children, all My praying children, should be in their homes praying the Holy Rosary.

16 If a heart is truly repentant, even if it is a sinning heart, it will have the Grace to receive the Blessing of God and to be forever liberated from its faults.

17 Grow in heart, in soul and in spirit, because the world agonizes and needs the potential that God has birthed in you.

18 I want you to see My Heart as a safe refuge, as a door that will lead you to the House of God.

19 With this breeze that touches you today, I purify your lives, re-consecrate your spirits, under the Infinite Grace of God and of all His Divine Manifestations.

20 If you have the sea-breeze nearby, or if you can see the sunrise, on behalf of all, ask for forgiveness to the Kingdoms of Nature.

21 Make silence the instrument to relieve your mind and heart.

22 As Queen of Peace, today I come to ask you to unite fervently to all the needs of the world.

23 If you can climb a mountain or walk in a forest or in the woods, from the heart, thank, contemplate and adore God, and ask for forgiveness to Creation.

24 Let there be in your life, in each one of your days, moments of silence, when you just focus on that which is true and that dwells in you.

25 May the profound Peace of Jesus be upon you, in you, and especially in the places where wars and conflicts are lived today.

26 This is the moment when everyone must understand one another as brothers and sisters, and this goes beyond religion or your own beliefs.

27 If you can rescue an inoffensive animal, or even water a plant, go and contemplate them, on behalf of all of Creation, ask for forgiveness for humanity.

28 In times of so much chaos, child, when the noises of the world increasingly confuse hearts, seek in silence the way to be in balance.

29 I ask you not to lose hope. When the cross becomes heavier, that is when the victory can be very great.

30 I come as the Great Solar Consciousness to awaken the sleeping hearts, to bring wisdom to the closed minds, to nourish spirits through My Solar Light.

31 Make silence the way for your consciousness to withdraw from the tensions of the world and to dive into the celestial mysteries.
