6 In your heart is the path to, again and again, re-encounter the purpose that brought you to the Earth.

7 All will only be fine when you seek God every day and you believe in the Power of His Love, which is infinite and incalculable.

8 May peace and hope be a reality in the human heart and may they impel humanity to the renovation of life and of spirit.

9 Peace on the planet depends on the determination of humanity in living it, because the lack of peace is caused by humanity itself.

10 Do not miss the opportunity of trusting Me. Because in spite of the mistakes being great, even greater is My Divine Mercy.

11 Children, be pilgrims of My Most Chaste Heart, and take awakening, the Graces of God, His Mercy, and His Presence to the world.

12 Live through your heart, giving of yourself in each moment and offering yourself in reparation for those who do not offer themselves.

13 Do not cease to look toward Heaven and to feel the Presence of the Father; let His Spirit fill you. Participate in Sacred Unity.

14 Now open the tabernacle of your heart so that, during this next Nativity of the Lord, I can enter and finally be a part of your small life.

15 The Creator trusts in the triumph of each heart, beyond its miseries, because He knows the perfect essence with which each one was created.

16 What the world offers you for these important dates of the Nativity of the Lord is only a distraction and more illusion.

17 May you find an inner guide in the Star of Bethlehem, just as the Kings of the East did by contemplating the sacred Star of Bethlehem.

18 You are on the road to Bethlehem, looking for the cradle of humility so that God may return alive to His Creation.

19 As Lady of the Nativity of Jesus, today I invite you to build an inner manger within yourselves during this time, through prayer.

20 In this Nativity, that draws near, may all remember the inner Christ, so that its Light and Wisdom can take you by the hand.

21 Concentrate your ardent love upon the occult significance and on the mystery of the Star of Bethlehem.

22 As the Sacred Family, we place you before the Grace of the return of Christ, a gift that is incomprehensible to the mind.

23 You must learn to choose Divine Light, Love and Divine Will, in spite of all stimuli and impulses that lead you to live the opposite.

24 Today, for a moment, focus your attention and inwardly contemplate the mysterious but revealing Star of Bethlehem.

25 I leave you My peace and absolute trust in the presence of Christ within humanity, because the Lord has been reborn.

26 The Cave of Bethlehem is so small and simple, that nothing but the Humility of God and of His servants fits in.

27 The eyes of fire of the Creator observe the world, attentive and fixed on those who have let themselves be burnt by the Power of His Magnitude.

28 Stay submerged within My Silence so that, finding within your being the Truth of God, you may participate in the communion with divine life.

29 Open yourself to begin this new cycle that is approaching, conscious of what God expects of you in this time.

30 The Lord seeks in the world those who will be the bearers of Truth and who will transcend the common human conducts in order to be the pioneers of the true human archetype.

31 I thank all of you who made it possible to fulfill My call this year and those who will fulfill it next year so that the graces may abound on Earth.
