1 Rejoice and reconfirm yourself on the path of love, constancy, perseverance, and faith.	2 Open your arms, open your hearts, because the Light of Christ will shine and illuminate all the abysses.	3 The only thing that God expects from you is that your life be permeated by transparency and truth.	4 May the deep Peace of Jesus be upon you, in you, and especially in the places where wars and conflicts are lived today.	5 Today, may the Universal Sun be born within the children of God so that darkness may be dispelled from all corners of the consciousness.	6 There is no suffering that constant prayer cannot repair. There is no wound that sincere prayer cannot heal.	7 Pray with Me for each child of Mine, regardless of their condition or misery. Let us pray for awakening and for peace.
8 May the Divine Breath of the Holy Spirit illuminate the inner worlds of beings today, so that, in the face of so much adversity, the immaculate principle of Peace may be established.	9 May the whole world hear the Word of God through His Son so that humanity is born again under the Wisdom of God.	10 There is no hardened heart that true prayer cannot awaken.	11 May inner peace be the unbreakable pillar of those who promote peace and good in the world.	12 You need nothing else, creatures of God, because you have a Mother, and the Mother of Heaven is the most important thing in your lives.	13 There is no spirit distant from God that prayer made with the heart cannot, once again, bring it closer to its Creator Father.	14 May the essence of Peace, which comes from the Divine Source, penetrate into the spaces with the greatest planetary need.
15 May this Divine and Celestial Peace, which is unalterable, deeply work in the consciousnesses of the world that most need peace.	16 May hearts be able to feel and recognize the call so that the doors of Grace and Redemption may remain open.	17 To heal this world, pray. To restore human spirituality, pray. To reopen the doors that unite you to God, pray.	18 Have faith and persist. Persist for the divine future and for the new and renewed humanity.	19 It is the time of definitions, as well as the time of Mercy.	20 To receive the Grace of forgiveness and redemption, pray. To rescue the purpose of your existence, pray. To rescue the meaning of life on Earth, pray.	21 May the Light of the Heart of God attract the divine state of Peace toward the world and, in this way, may all darkness of the Earth be dispelled.
22 May the peace of heart radiate to all ends of the Earth and may souls be touched by the Peace of the Redeemer.	23 Feel yourself in the Hands of God, in spite of the difficulties and adversities, because the Love of God and of His Son will always triumph.	24 For your souls, this planet and the whole universe to find peace again, pray, children, pray with the heart.	25 May your whole consciousness, soul and life be blessed today, so that what is written may be fulfilled.	26 Listen to the Voice of God within you and the essential purity will re-emerge from within you.	27 Seek the purity of your heart through silence and prayer to restore this world from so many sins and illusions.	28 May the peace of heart grant the inner healing of the soul and the healing of the spirit.
29 Recognize that you are a miracle of God and that your consciousness was blessed by the Heavenly Father.	30 In your noble heart lies the truth about what you always were and what you will be, because the truth of your being is spiritual and not human.	31 The Mysteries of God are infinite and even more so is His Love. Never forget when He was on Earth, in the Body and Soul of His Son.
