						1 When the Grace of God descends to the world, My children, open your arms and hearts and do not ignore it.
2 The Mercy of God descends upon His children to teach them to forgive, to unite hearts in the purpose of Peace.	3 I am present and attentive in all the Sanctuaries on Earth, there I can attend to their supplications.	4 Have reverence to one another, demonstrating in this way the comprehension of the Divine in each thing created by God.	5 In order to awaken in your hearts the love that leads you to the Truth, I call you to service and to charity, I call you to prayer.	6 May this Marathon of Divine Mercy be the marathon of sacrifice and of the institution of Divine Forgiveness among the peoples and the nations that conquered and harmed one another.	7 Imperfection was created due to the lack of reverence of the hearts because all that God has created is perfect.	8 As a Mother of pity, today I come to envelop you in the sacred mantle of Christ in order for your deepest and most unconscious wounds to be healed.
9 Wait for Me in the inner silence, in the quietude of your soul, so that the Spirit of God will come with Me.	10 Rest your heart in Mine so that you may always achieve peace.	11 For the divine Life to find in your heart a door to enter into humanity, you must have the manifestation of this life as priority.	12 May the doors of your heart open themselves today so that you may recognize the most valuable thing that God has kept inside of your being.	13 I want you to be able to walk by My side, seeking every day to be a little more transparent with yourself, with life and with everything that surrounds you.	14 As a Shepherd and faithful instructor of souls, that aspire to arrive to God, today I ask you to never lose reverence before the Sacred.	15 Pray for peace and raise your hearts to God, because the world needs it.
16 Resort to My Immaculate Heart each time that a little uncertainty or insecurity may approach your consciousness, because there I will be.	17 Peace for all of the souls and the Good of My Father for all of the beings of the Earth.	18 Have reverence, to one another, demonstrating, in this way, the comprehension of the Divine in each thing created by God.	19 I come to remove you from ignorance, because human ignorance and indifference have no nation, no religion and no culture.	20 That, by means of the Source and the Ocean of My Divine and Unfathomable Mercy, the deepest wounds of human suffering be closed.	21 May the unity amongst praying beings build the unity amongst nations and prepare them for a new time, an Earth without borders, without divisions.	22 Be carriers of the joy of My Maternal Heart because the world needs relief and you can help with prayer.
23 May the purpose of your prayers be to help to convert the conciseness of the world.	24 My Father has sent Me to bring you the Peace and the victory of My Love in all hearts that open to receive Me.	25 Dispose yourselves, each day, to be instruments of God and let yourselves be guided.	26 Liberate your heart from every offense, seek the reconciliation with God every day.	27 Reflect all the good that your being holds and leave Me in charge of all the rest.	28 May each instance of your life, child, lead you to search for God; may each learning conduct you to Him.	29 My Words are divine impulses, they are like the Light that brightens a dark room, so that you find the door to leave the prison of these times.
30 Patience is the flame that never goes out, it is the incandescent glow that ignites everything.
