DAILY MESSAGE OF SAINT JOSEPH, TRANSMITTED during the group task of Saint Joseph IN THE MARIAN CENTER OF AURORA, PAYSANDU, URUGUAY, TO THE VISIONARY SISTER LUCÍA DE JESÚS

When you call upon Me, I come to meet you, with My Chaste Heart safeguarding each small and great effort you make to fulfill the Purpose of God.

With love, I contemplate that which you were able to achieve and, with pity, I contemplate your deepest weaknesses, your most ingrained miseries.

With a gaze of Grace and Mercy, I contemplate each one of you because whenever you stand before God and open the way for His Messengers, the Creator Himself pours out upon you the celestial purpose that He has for your lives, since the beginning.

Your Celestial Father rests in the hearts that strive, and even though you are still ignorant of the truth and many times are lost in the illusions of this world, it is your efforts, children, the constant effort that brings you close to God, that causes you to restore His Holy and Eternal Heart.

Your Celestial Father has a time for everything and, with love, waits for each one of your steps. What matters most is that you are always walking, and that you always have your feet and your heart pointed in the right direction, which is the surrender to God and the effort to love and serve better, each day.

With this small but yet deep movement of going toward God and your fellow beings, every day, God Himself, children, will also come to you. And even though it may be silent and invisible, the meeting will take place.

My Chaste Heart rejoices today, not only because of all the material tasks and the physical efforts that you made this morning. I rejoice to see striving spirits, your hearts bowed down trying to overcome yourselves, in spite of your limitations.

I do not say these things to exalt you, but rather to encourage you. This is the path, the path of love and surrender, of self-giving and of sharing life and bread with your brothers and sisters.

And let your aspirations not turn toward anything but the manifestation of Divine Will, even though, children, for this you are diminished and others grow.

Be foundations when it is necessary to reach a heart that is in need of support.

Be hands that uplift, inspire, that give of themselves and take the risk of supporting all those who are trying to walk.

Let each one make their effort without forgetting others. Walk looking forward, but knowing that you are always opening the way for others and not just for yourselves.

Today, children, I leave you My blessing, My grace and My peace.

I know that many of you are going through deserts and challenges. Thus, may My love and My presence be water and renewal in your lives.

Pray with Me, for I am your intercessor before God.

I do not come to the world for anything but to serve. I could be perfectly united with the Creator, but I am here to take you by the hand, because this is Divine Will. And so count on Me, on My love and on My intercession.

I bless you and I thank you for not stopping your steps.

The Most Chaste Saint Joseph
