

Tuesday, April 21 of 2020

DAILY MESSAGE OF SAINT JOSEPH, TRANSMITTED IN THE MARIAN CENTER OF FIGUEIRA, MINAS GERAIS, BRAZIL, TO THE VISIONARY SISTER LUCÍA DE JESÚS

While chaos expands and human comforts reveal their illusion, souls that have committed themselves to Christ from the beginning look at their own lives, seek meaning, and do not find it.

While the false human fortresses and all the castles built upon sand begin to be overthrown, the souls that have committed themselves to Christ from the beginning look around, searching for how to support themselves, and do not find it.

Thus, they begin to look at their own hearts; thus, their eyes turn towards the High and, within themselves, they find the deep silence of their souls, tired of living lost and empty of real purpose.

And in the Heart of the Infinite, in the center of Creation, they find the luminous Gaze of God, more radiant than a thousand suns, full of an unknown Love, that embraces, supports, awakens and leads to the purpose of their lives.

The Creator is calling souls by their names, by their true and first names, so that they awaken, because it is not in the world and in its illusions that they will find the meaning and the answers to their deepest questions.

Human life, as it manifests today, children, is losing its meaning, and it will only reveal the fragility and ignorance of humanity when they are separated from God and, consequently, separated from themselves, from their inner truth.

Do not fear losing that which has already been lost; do not fear to release that which has already fallen; do not fear to let die that which has never been alive, because it is when you give up the illusions that you find plenitude.

And you will wonder how you have been prisoners for so long within invisible and unreal bars that vanish with one blow.

Souls that listen to the Voice of God are to respond to His call. The time has come.

You have My blessing for this.

The Most Chaste Saint Joseph