APPARITION OF CHRST JESUS DURING THE SACRED WEEK, IN THE MARIAN CENTER OF FIGUEIRA, MINAS GERAIS, BRAZIL, TO THE VISIONARY FRIAR ELÍAS DEL SAGRADO CORAZÓN

By the spear that pierced the Heart of Jesus and poured Mercy for the world, forgive us, Lord. (x6)

I am in silence, as I was in the Sepulcher, contemplating the world.

I would like to see the results of the trajectory of these days, and My Heart is ennobled on finding it in the most simple and the most open of heart, because My Wounds are still open and they are shown to you on this day: My Wounds of Light and of Mercy.

Drink from the correct Source that I offer you and do not drink what you like the most, but rather what God has prepared for you.

Today I am in the silence of My Spirit, speaking to your inner worlds, because it is where true things are built.

That is why I am here today, in the silence of My Sepulcher, preparing to resurrect tomorrow in those who knew to offer Me the best from within themselves.

I will no longer pull on the ropes of the ungrateful so that they may be saved. If they fall from My boat, they must learn how to swim, because everything was given to them, and that is irrefutable. My treasures cannot fall into impure or unjust hands.

I come to give you something, companions, that will serve for the next life. But some of you still do not understand Me, do not live My desire and even less My Will. You think you are following My steps, but you do not. Do not deceive yourselves any longer; open your eyes to the Light that I bring you, the Light of Truth and of transformation.

If I offered Myself for you, I want you to offer yourselves for Me, truly and without lies. For you may lie to your fellow beings, but not to My Father, and even less to My Heart that donates Itself completely to you.

I would truly like, companions, that you abandon your miserly abysses, where you only waste time because of your own ideas. I do not come to activate the power of your thought nor of your decision. I come to awaken Christs of the New Time in hearts that accept My designs, just as I write them in your spirits.

I will not be able to wait, companions, so that you can change. It will not be your brothers that will take you off the path, but your own decisions and your own paths that sometimes are not Mine.

Today I come again to show you the Wound on My Side, the last and great sacrifice that I lived for you, even when I was dead on the Cross. If I allowed Myself to be martyred and flogged for the unjust, could it be, companions, that you have learned the lesson of My Love for the whole world?

I would not like, companions, that after this Sacred Week you should live on the same paths of your wills. Everything that I have given you in these last days has been a preparation for this moment, even more for those who consecrated themselves to Me and made vows before My Heart, which they sometimes do not fulfill.

But today I do not come to give you My Justice, because you could not bear it. The world always seeks its own defeat and thus does the human being of the surface.

You are the same as the Apostles from the past, who had to face their own banishment, their own ignorance and lack of faith. But God dwells in all the hearts that follow Him, but not in the hearts that are prideful and think they live in God. God is not constrained to unjust souls. How can the Heart of God be in a closed heart, when it is blind and does not want to see what the Universe shows it?

To be My disciple there must be no preferences or doubts, but rather trust, obedience, and love. If you do not live within love, companions, you will not be able to bear the purification, and nobody will be at fault in this, because the Law as It is above, so it is below, and It responds, just as you respond, to material life.

I would like that your hearts reflect with Mine, without forgetting what I tell you with so much Love.

I do not want you to observe your miseries with contempt, but rather that you banish them with love and will, at least for Me. I cannot build My Work in fragile and tepid pillars. I have given you all the materials so that your pillar may be strong and victorious.

I have given you the Creator Parents so that you may know Them by Their hidden and profound Face.

I have given you My Mother so that She may console you and guide you on the path of faith and of obedience. Each one will know, companions, what they are still not doing well.

I do not come to unmask you nor make you feel like sinners.

I have come to show what truly is and the urgency of your hearts being clear and less false. But still, My Heart pours out Its wonders over the unjust, because My aspiration is great for each one of them, something that you would never understand in this life.

During all of this time, with Love I brought you the Kingdom of the Heavens so that your lives may be lifted up from the ground, just as you have fallen so many times. But it is no longer the time to judge. I told you once that you should take the speck out of your eye rather than from that of your siblings.

Nobody is perfect in this time nor in this old humanity, but rather, in the next one you will live the glow of My Spirit for those who have given their full "yes" to My call, rather than to their will.

Just as I teach you today, companions, I have taught My apostles the true transparency of things and of the paths. I do not want you to leave here thinking that everything is fine. In truth, companions, it is time to face what must be faced and not be lukewarm towards those events.

In this way, today I want you to live this communion with Me, because just as I love you, I also instruct you so that you never again deceive yourselves. If you do not accept what I tell you, because I know that you do not accept it, you will not be able to love My Heart. But My infinite Mercy allows the revelation of these things so that your hearts may mature in consciousness and in love.

I asked the twelve for everything, and to you, companions, and all those who hear Me, I also ask for everything. How do you think the 144.000 will be gathered if you still do not accept My convocation? I chose you for this moment and you cannot deny it.

But your feet are so free to walk, like your hearts are to feel, meditate, and reflect. I do not want you to be distressed today, but rather that you feel everything with more neutrality in order to truly grow without emotions.

I come to ask for something very demanding from each one, especially from those who have consecrated themselves and that through the Mercy of My Mother are here again today, so as to not forget My Path and to not forget on the path that I placed you in unity with your fellow beings.

As a token of My Love, I will bless you again in the Name of the Most Holy Trinity, so that your consciousnesses may open to the new and to the path that I invite you to walk on every day.

How many offerings you have left here on My Altar to please Me. May this always enrich your spirits in union with My Heart.

I purify all things when hearts open to receive Me. I consecrate what is impossible and transform what is imperfect. In hearts I ignite the light that was always in darkness.

In the name of Heaven and Earth, I ask God for your salvation and the salvation of humanity. Through this living example of the Body and the Blood of My Heart, may souls find Peace.

Today I will give My Holy Body to those who make an effort for Me.

Friar Elias del Sagrado Corazon:

Will the brothers and sisters of the TV come here. Abel and Anita also.

Do not lose your connection with Me, I am here.

*My God, I believe in You,
I adore You, I wait for You and I love You, and I ask Your forgiveness for those who do not believe in You, do not adore you, do not wait for You, and do not love You.*

Amen.

The Our Father in Aramaic.

And by the power of Love and of Truth, companions, I bless you and the world in the Name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit. Amen.

Now you may go in Peace, following My ways.
