DAILY MESSAGE OF SAINT JOSEPH, TRANSMITTED IN THE MARIAN CENTER OF FIGUEIRA, MINAS GERAIS, BRAZIL, TO THE VISIONARY SISTER LUCÍA DE JESÚS

XV - Choose God at Each Instant

A suffering soul, that in this life seemed not to know the joy and the love that others have the opportunity to experience, questioned God a question, asking Him: "Lord, I see the world and I find inequality, souls that rejoice and souls that despair, souls that are strengthened by You and souls that lose their strength and do not find meaning for their own lives. Tell me, then, You, Who are the God of all, the same and the One, what is the reason for the imbalances of the world?"

And contemplating the sincerity of the soul's suffering, the Lord responded: - "I Am the God of all beings, the Father and Lord of all life, the Only and the Triune God, the God of Love and Truth. But life, little soul, is designed by Laws that maintain the balance of the evolution of all consciousnesses and lead them according to their own choices. My Love for souls is the same; with the same hope, I wait for hearts to return to Me; but the suffering or the joy in this world is not a decision that My Heart makes regarding creatures.

What is bliss for you? Where do you see that humankind finds joy in their hearts? Because to be in true joy, a soul only needs to be in Me, and although they may suffer with the pain of humankind, My Love in their heart does not let them perish.

The suffering of the world, little soul, must make you understand the fragility of human life that is distant from Me. The true pain that souls feel is for being distant from My Heart or for ignoring My Presence. A soul may have everything in matter and still be profoundly empty and unhappy, just as a soul may not have anything and yet possess the greatest of all joys, which is to be in My Heart. But this, little soul, is a daily decision, a constant and permanent, of souls that choose to be in Me rather than in the world.

For this reason, when you feel emptiness and suffering in your heart, ask yourself not where I Am, but rather where are you. My Heart is in you, but are you in Me?"

May this dialogue remind you, children, that you must be in God to understand that life is made of Laws that do not descend at random from the universe but rather are attracted by each soul that chooses, through their actions, thoughts and feelings, that which they will attract to their own lives.

Know how to choose God, every day, at each instant.

You have My blessing for this.

The Most Chaste Saint Joseph
