Daily Message received in the city of Zagreb, Croatia, transmitted by Saint Joseph to the visionary Sister Lucía de Jesús

Listen to the weeping of a spirit wounded by wars and by the ignorance of humankind, the heart of a nation that cries out for Mercy, even though its inhabitants have gotten lost in the indifference of their common life and do not listen to it.

Every day, the merciful Eye of God is placed upon those who clamor, who cry out, who pray for peace, but also and above all, on those who do not clamor, do not cry out and do not pray, for they do not know God and His infinite Love.

With your hearts, keep the doors of Forgiveness, of Grace and of Mercy open to this planet, each day more. Be conscious of the immense need of the world, and let serving this wounded world be your greatest aspiration.

God the Father expects to be able to reach His children every day, and for that, He needs to find the doors of human hearts always open to His Love. Be that door which constantly opens to God. Be the conscious permission for the Creator to embrace and support His creatures.

May your praying word, born from the depth of the heart, be tirelessly pronounced, for the Earth needs peace.

Your Father and Friend,

The Most Chaste Saint Joseph
