WEEKLY MESSAGE RECEIVED IN THE MARIAN CENTER OF FIGUEIRA, TRANSMITTED BY THE MOST HOLY VIRGIN MARY, QUEEN OF PEACE TO THE VISIONARY SISTER LUCÍA

Dear children:

Today My Heart blesses you and thanks you for having been perpetually united to My Son Jesus, even if you have not perceived it.

My beloveds, My Heart comes to give you a sign of Redemption and of Consecration to the Most Holy Heart of God. Because this is the moment to make the true offer of life.

I am among you to teach you to live under the First Law of the Universe, which is Love, this Love that My Son has deposited in the World and that day by day tries to awaken in your hearts.

I come to present to you a Love that is born out of sacrifice and of surrender. A Love that is unknown to many, because it must be awakened in chaos, in misery, in despair. A Love that is born in the meek hearts, even when they are in the face of wickedness, injustice, neglectfulness and suffering.

This Love that I offer to you is not born only from beauty and does not awaken pleasure nor attachment. This Love blossoms under any circumstance and must be given to the most weak, to the most poor and to the most rich. Those who must be loved by this Love are those who make an effort to live the Will of the Lord and those who do not make an effort to live it.

I want to show you with My coming to Earth that My Heart comes to those who seek Me and to those who do not seek Me. That the Lord sends Me to those who open the door to Me and to those who close the door to Me.

The Lord has taught Me that, wherever there is a closed door, I must wait outside with profound Love and patience, knowing that it is in His Plans that all doors will be opened. That the most cold Heart will be warmed up, because in the presence of My Son, who will rise again, nothing will remain without being contemplated. There will be no suffering that is not soothed, there will be no children without a lap, nor mothers without comfort.

With this I want to teach you to Love as the Lord has taught Me. I want to awaken this Love that Jesus planted on Earth and that has remained dormant in your hearts.

If you want to find a safe path, My children, only Love, Love from the depths of your hearts, love without distinctions, without attachment and without separativity. Love without preferences and love simply. Because in this way, what today is closed will be opened, and what is cold will be warmed up and what is dead will live. This is the law of My Son. And this is the only thing that I can offer you in this time.

All you seek, you will find through Love and all the paths that you follow, will end in It. Because this Love that I speak to you about today, and which today I offer to you, is the beginning and the end. It is the entrance door, it is the path to be travelled and it is the purpose of the existence of each one of your hearts.

I invite you to awaken.

I thank you eternally for opening the heart to Me on this day.

Mary, Your Mother and Queen of Peace
