

Monday, July 11 of 2016

Daily Message of Mary, Rose of Peace, transmitted in Vila de Dornes, Ferreira do Zêzere, Santarém, Portugal to the visionary Friar Elías del Sagrado Corazón

When one battle is lost, another is won; because above all, love will always triumph.

It is this powerful living love that is feared by the powers of hell, and it is this Divine Love that makes them weak and helps to transmute them.

It is in this hour, dear children, that everything is about to be defined within and outside beings, because the time has come when the Plan, that My Son once came to fulfill, will definitely be concluded in this humanity through His Return.

As this return is near, chaos and evil fear that moment when an imminent victory will take place in humanity at the strike of the hammer of the Justice of God.

It is in this critical and unpredictable hour that your hearts must be strong, brave and united, to avoid the failure of the proposed Plan.

Dear children, throughout this time of unexpected events and challenges, have complete faith that you will finally find peace and will understand that the service of Love for the planet is broader than it seems.

On this day, when the night is gathering, dear children, I invite you to meekness and faith; I invite you to pray day and night for those who My hand chose to carry forward this Work of the co-redemption of humanity.

In your weaknesses is found the greatest sacrifice. In your willingness is found the love that can do anything. In the surrender to Divine Will, the soul finds its liberation.

All those who say they are apostles of My Son will be called to carry out impossible things outside of the normal time and hour of humanity.

A Greater Plan is at stake, and the Divine will knock on the door of those who once applied in another time to serve It unconditionally.

May your faith grow and may no one lose their peace. I am with you in this battle against the beast of ten horns: its defeat is near and the triumph of My Heart is already visible to the angels of Heaven.

I thank you for responding to My call!

In prayer,

Your Mother Mary, Rose of Peace