

Friday, December 18 of 2015

DAILY MESSAGE OF SAINT JOSEPH, TRANSMITTED IN THE MARIAN CENTER OF AURORA TO THE VISIONARY SISTER LUCÍA DE JESÚS??

While you do not understand that, in the world, peace is born within each being, you will continue to live in times of chaos and indifference to God.

To live in a peaceful world, you must be peacemakers, not only in the great works, but in all moments of life.

The beginning of conflicts in the human heart is always the same: the impossibility of renouncing your own opinion, the inability of allowing yourself to be humiliated, the eagerness for manifesting things in the world according to your own understanding, the lack of fraternity and inability to adhere to others's ideas and of trying to understand the way of thinking and feeling of others, so that they may show you what you cannot see on your own.

The lack of peace is always connected to the lack of humility, because a humble heart that does not fear renouncing and learning with others and with the situations in life, always lives in peace, at least with itself. If there is something that takes away its peace, it is the sadness of perceiving that few have woken up to the Truth and are missing the opportunity of knowing peace, because they prefer to affirm themselves all the time.

In the world, human beings sin through ignorance, through the influence of the forces of oppression and involution and through their inability of giving themselves the opportunity to be reborn through the conversion to a higher purpose. But those who hear Me, just like they hear the other Divine Messengers, they sin because they prefer to affirm themselves rather than trusting in everything that they have learned from God.

Who has the greater sin?

Peace will not emerge in the world through the hearts of the ignorant, for these are blind in their ignorance and will need the emergence of the Light to find the path to redemption.

Who will then open the doors and windows of the world for the entry of the Sun?

My companions, servants of the Most High God, you listen to these words not so that you may become better people in a world of absolute indifference to the Plans of God; you listen to all this so that, through Divine Words, the Lord may at least awaken a few human hearts that are willing to become nothing and renounce everything, to make their own consciousness a fountain of peace for the world, so that drop by drop, this peace may quench the thirst of those that never knew it in life.

The heroic work of these times is not to martyr the body, it is to sanctify the consciousness; because it is much more difficult for the human heart to renounce its opinion rather than to renounce its life. Also, there are those that prefer death to humility. For this reason, I entrust this mission to the brave of spirit, who will battle silently and will overcome in the anonymity of their public defeat, for the victory of the humble ones is only known to God.

In love and peace, who awakens you to the spirit of humility,

The Most Chaste Saint Joseph