MESSAGE FOR THE SPECIAL APPARITION IN THE CITY OF FLORIANOPOLIS, SC, BRAZIL

TRANSMITTED BY THE MOTHER OF THE DIVINE CONCEPTION OF THE TRINITY TO THE VISIONARY SISTER LUCÍA

My children,

Before the beginning of a war between chaos and the worldly forces you must strengthen your spirits with the power of prayer.

I prepare you in this time, as I prepared the apostles of Christ in a past time, to proclaim without fear the Good News of the Kingdom of the Heavens in any type of darkness.

The life of the apostles of Christ was worth the salvation of many souls and it gestated in that time the possibility of the awakening of many who live today.

For this I come today to the world to prepare those who will offer the possibility of life to others and who will sacrifice their own existence so that others may be able to awaken to the Truths of God.

My children, My offer is clear, sincere and it comes from the Heart of God. I know that for many it will seem to be something painful, but for the heart that summons itself there will be no greater merit than the sacrifice for others and there will be no greater victory than the defeat of its own will to definitively surrender itself in the hands of the Creator.

Many will think they are ready to live this surrender and millions will put their feet on this path but few will be the ones who will persist after the first step, after recognizing that to live the Plans of God they will have to totally leave their own plans, including the aspiration to live in order to materialize the Divine Will.

My beloveds, My words will not be encouraging for many but they will bring many others to the strength that they need in order to go ahead, because the brave spirits are strengthened in the adversities and they grow in the tests that are sent to them.

Know that My Word comes to the world to recruit soldiers and to awaken those who sleep. Today I call to walk by My side those who will fight with Me for the Plan of God to be established on Earth and I say that others will remain under My mantle, protected by the braveness of the few. But do not worry because each being is meant to fulfill a part of the Plan of God. And if today you do not feel willing to live a battle body-to-body, just remain firm in the true prayer and support with the heart and with the spirit those who will give all for the Whole.

My beloved ones, these are times of definitions and there are many paths to follow through, paths that lead to My Heart. Just take care and be watchful to not deceive yourselves and follow through paths that are not those that God chose for your lives.

In these times each heart that may truly open itself will be able to know when it is mistaken. You must only be willing to know all of the truth about yourself and allow that the first mask to fall before God will be your own.

My beloved ones, no longer deceive yourselves, no longer live things that you know are not the Will of God because it has come the time to live the consequences of your own actions of collecting the fruits of the trees that you planted throughout life.

Today the fruits of your actions will mature quickly. For this hurry up to plant good trees with good and true actions, above all, true ones.

It does not matter if you do not fulfill that which the world expects from you, nor what each one expects from themselves. Only take the risk to live the Will of God presented to your hearts, because the Voice of Creator already resounds in the inner levels, decreeing His Will to those who know how to listen.

Do not waste the Divine impulse that comes to your lives. Just walk, walk and do not look behind, nor to the sides, only to the horizon! Be brave of heart and spirit. I will sustain you.

Mary, Mother of the Divine Conception of the Trinity, the one who loves you and thanks you always for having listened to My last Call.
