WEEKLY MESSAGE OF SAINT JOSEPH TRANSMITTED IN THE MARIAN CENTER OF AURORA, PAYSANDU, URUGUAY TO THE VISIONARY SISTER LUCÍA DE JESÚS

When you commit a sin, child, do not hide your face from God, avoiding His Presence and His Face because of the shame it causes you.

When you sin, know that greater than the sin should be the repentance of the soul. And on the scales of Divine Justice, shame weighs less than repentance, and this opens the door to Divine Mercy, which balances all the sins of the world.

When you commit a sin, let your soul be like a child who surrenders at the feet of their parents to confess their mistakes and, in a dialogue with God, confess your deepest miseries to Him.

God is a God of Justice, but in light of a repenting soul, He reveals His Merciful and Compassionate Heart, capable of once again bringing to Himself the most sinful of His Children, if they should knock on His door.

For this reason, maintain a constant confession, a sincere dialogue with God, and a heart ready to receive Divine Mercy. In this way, you will be on the correct path, and, way beyond human duality or the inner battle that beings experience in their definitions every day, you will always find peace, because your soul will again find the connection and alliance with its Creator, will remember His Divine Promise and renew its hope of following His Footsteps.

You have My blessing for this.

Your father and friend,

The Most Chaste Saint Joseph
