WEEKLY MESSAGE OF SAINT JOSEPH, TRANSMITTED IN THE CITY OF BAD VOSLAU, AUSTRIA, TO THE VISIONARY SISTER LUCÍA DE JESÚS

See how the world is in agony, and pray with the heart.

It is not sufficient that your mind know the events of the world and judge them according to principles that, for you, are spiritual.

See how purity is lost in the heart of human beings, ever more distant from God and surrendered to the world, and search for this purity within you.

It is not sufficient that you verify the imperfections of others and judge them according to the principles that, for you, are spiritual.

See how in the actions of human beings each time there is less compassion, less pity, less mercy, and go seek in the source for these gifts for the world.

It is not enough to see that souls are thirsty and judge their motives based on principles that, for you, are spiritual.

My child, all that I say to you is so that you may dive into the depths of your heart and find God.

Your eyes can see all things and your mind can judge them all with a judgment that disguises itself and hides in all the knowledge that you have acquired in order to feel that you are a spiritual person, but knowledge does not make you spiritual.

Knowledge is a door that opens so that you may know where to walk, but you may have knowledge of all philosophies, religions, and sciences and yet be standing before those doors, contemplating paths which you never entered, because it is only transformation that moves your feet.

Substitute the impulse of your being an example for judgment.

Substitute the experience that brings you wisdom knowledge, and do not be afraid to try and see that it is difficult, and that in your falls and difficulties, your weakness and imperfections appear.

Because I tell you, beloved child, that it is when your eyes are ready, not only to know the world, but also and above all, yourself, that your feet start to walk, even if you feel you are standing still.

The greatness of wisdom is that it is built far away from the mind and from understanding, in the depths of the heart, and when you least expect it, surrendered at the Feet of God, at the peak of your miseries, you discover yourself to be wise, because the love that you submitted to there made you wise.

Therefore, child, see the world and observe it, but afterwards find it within yourself and transform it. Thus, all will be fulfilled.

Your Father and Friend,

The Most Chaste Saint Joseph
