APPARITION OF THE VIRGIN MARY IN PORTO ALEGRE, RIO GRANDE DO SUL, BRAZIL, TO THE VISIONARY SISTER LUCÍA DE JESÚS

Before My Presence, no evil will prevail, because there is no creature that does not come from God that has greater power than Mine.

Before My Immaculate Heart, the ignorant discover the power of wisdom, wisdom that comes from the heart, from the perfect essence that dwells within each being.

Before My Presence, the proud prostrate themselves, because they become humble before My infinite humility; there is no pride that can prevail.

Before My Peace, fears dissolve, because you have nothing to fear when you are before your Celestial Mother; My Mantle shelters and protects you, welcoming you into the Light of God, so as to ignite the light that dwells within you.

Before My Immaculate Heart exposed in front of the eyes of your hearts, the pains of your hearts dissipate, because the balm of My Light heals and redeems all souls.

Those who had no faith in Me, but who open their hearts, will feel Me.

Those who trust in My Presence, who go deeper on the path of prayer, will see Me.

Those who are willing to be My soldiers, who are willing to prepare for the Return of My Son to this world, to His home, will find Him.

Today I gather you here to awaken you from the slumber in which you live, to awaken the mission that your souls have before God and yet, are so lost in the illusions of this world.

I have come here to overcome the pride in your hearts, pride created over the centuries, cemented by education and human heredity .

I have come to break down the structures of your inner world so that you can become lighthearted and simple before God.

Blessed will be those who are like children, because they will find the gates of Heaven and will not fear entering My Kingdom.

Blessed are those who throw themselves into My Arms and who do not wonder if it is true that I am here.

Blessed are those who simply feel My Presence and trust in My Voice, which echoes in the universe as well as within all creatures.

I have come to consecrate this world, to make it sacred, so that it finally fulfills the original Purpose of God, which in no way resembles what happens in this world.

I have come to ask you not to degenerate human existence, not to give more importance to appearances than to the life of the spirit, because what you are, in truth, transcends the forms you have externally.

I have come to ask you, My children, to trust in the guidance of your Heavenly Mother, to surrender your lives into My Arms and, in prayer, to listen to My Words, because I seek to speak to your hearts every day. Who will listen to Me? Who will dissolve doubts about the veracity of My Words?

I want to speak to the hearts of the world when humanity is lost and cannot find a way out of the darkness.

I want each of My children, those who respond to My call, to be torches that are lit at the end of these times to illuminate the eyes of those who cannot find the light.

I come to dispel the ignorance of humankind, to show them the truth and to confirm, with the transformation of their own lives, of their own spirits, that the Presence of God is true on this Earth.

Those who follow in My footsteps will never be the same, because My power will transform them and make their lives sacred, just as God expects; but I need you to be humble, to be simple of heart, because My Voice cannot speak to the hearts of the proud, because they would not follow My Instruction, but rather they would follow their own impulses, believing that it is I who speaks to them. For you to hear My Voice within, I need you to transform yourselves, to surrender at the feet of the Celestial Altar, to surrender who you are, so that God may completely transform you.

So come to Me in prayer every day; come to Me pleading for this world, for the Kingdoms of Nature and for those who cannot open their own hearts.

Come to Me as humanity, so that My Love may restore your wounds, console your souls and show you that, in truth, life on this planet has a meaning, a sacred meaning, a divine meaning, a unique purpose, which will lead this universe to experience redemption.

Today I will ask you not to be here just for yourselves, but to pray for this whole city as well as for this nation, because those who are here have been able to overcome a little of their own pride in order to get to know their Divine Mother; but there are many who need My Love and My shelter and yet have not been able to get here, because they could not overcome their own resistance.

For this reason, now I will ask you to pray so that My Mantle may extend over the world and welcome into it those souls who must respond to My call, those who most need to surrender to My Immaculate Heart.

For the light that has poured forth from Your Immaculate Heart, which has converted the hearts of the world,
Divine Lady, pray for us.

I listen to your hearts and I know what you need most, I know that you pray for your families, and some of you ask for a sign to believe in my Presence. This sign, My children, I can only give to your hearts, because it is the healing that I give to your spirits, the greatest miracle that I offer to your lives.

Receive this healing that brings you redemption and do not be afraid to be transformed, to respond to My call. Do not be ashamed to be prayerful in a world that is moving further away from God every day, because I need your prayers, My children, in order to generate merit for the salvation of all souls, especially for those who will criticize you, who will persecute you and who will not understand your path.

Keep praying, even if they don't understand you, if they judge you and even persecute you, because I will also save those souls and show them the truth when the time comes.

If you remain true, your prayers can generate merits for the salvation of your enemies, because this is the Christic path, as your Master and your King, My beloved Son, Christ Jesus, taught you.

Now I ask those of My children who have encouraged themselves to be an example for the hearts of this city and this world to come forward, those who will carry upon their bodies My Heavenly Mantle, to bear witness to My Presence, to the power of prayer and to true consecration to God.

I want you to know, My beloved ones, that when you consecrate yourselves before Me, you are renewing your commitments to God.

So come here without fear, come here with courage and with love.

I know that many of you would like to consecrate yourselves as Children of Mary, so, My beloved ones, begin a path of prayer. Little by little, redeem your spirits and your lives, show others that you really aspire to this consecration, because one day it will come.

Consecration to my Heart first begins in the spirit; it is the spirit that commits itself to God from the beginning, because it is the spirit that will sustain you in the times of greatest darkness in the world.

Today I will consecrate you in a different way, because My Heart rejoiced this afternoon when, from Heaven, I heard the children who sang to My Heart, who generated merits so that other children in the world could consecrate themselves in spirit and experience the redemption of their little souls.

Offer this moment, My beloved ones, especially to the children of the Middle East and to all the young people of the world who do not know God and who only seek the pleasures and illusions that this Earth offers.

Now sing and, as one spirit, repair the Heart of God, which today has rejoiced upon listening to your little souls. At this time, God wants you to sing again in front of my Immaculate Heart, now with the doors open to my Kingdom, so that all the dimensions that cross Divine Creation can hear your song and trust that this humanity can be redeemed. I hear you.

Dear children, the Voice of God is heard by your hearts today. For this reason, the peace you have dreamed of so much can be a reality in your lives. It is only necessary that you believe in my Presence and that God speaks to you, freeing the world from all the ingratitude, all the lack of love and all the pain that oppresses it.

I thank you, I bless you and I consecrate you in the name of the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. Amen.

May you continue to sing, because souls are receiving relief today in many places around this world.

I thank you.

Sister Lucía de Jesús:

And with this very simple Message, which synthesizes within it all the Words and Instructions of Our Divine Mother, let us thank Our Lady and these children for having opened our hearts.

We are grateful, Divine Mother, for all that you give us!
